Canadian Criticism of U.S. Worries Top Policy Makers

Will Forgery Trial Reaches Jury Today

NANAIMO—The case of Mrs. Frances Maud Steele, charged with the forgery of a will and two other documents, will go to the Spring Assize Court jury today.

The case for the Crown was completed a few minutes before noon, and J. D. B. McPhee, lawyer for Mrs. Steele, said he would not be calling any defence witnesses. The trial was adjourned until 1:30 p.m., when Crown counsel A. G. McCulloch and Mr. McPhee will address the court.

Only witness to be heard today was Sgt. Norman W. Duxbury, of the RCMP crime detection laboratory in Regina.

He was cross-examined for more than one hour by Mr. McPhee.

Asked by defence counsel if a will purported to have been made by Charles R. Mau could have been copied, Sgt. Duxbury replied, "No."

The witness said an attempt had been made to disguise the writing in the will.

"In your opinion, was the questioned will written by an educated person?" Mr. McPhee asked.

"I would say it was prepared by a person of normal education," Sgt. Duxbury said. He liberate gestures apparently in stating that the endorsement on the certificate of shares in the name of Mrs. Steele was written by Mrs. Steele. He said that on examining the endorsement, he had noted the characteristics to be "highly individual."

Asked if he was infallible, as a handwriting expert, Sgt. Duxbury replied: "In this case I am quite sure."

"Have you ever been mistaken?" asked Mr. McPhee.

"Yes," Duxbury replied.

UN Clash, Food Giveaway Criticism, Fuel Policy Bother Washington

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
Editor, The Victoria Daily Times

WASHINGTON—The American government is disturbed and a little hurt by what it believes to be the current mood of Canada.

A Canadian has hardly arrived in this town before he is asked on all sides why Canada appears to be annoyed with its big neighbor; why our politicians are so critical of American policy; and whether this national humor will crystallize later on in national policy.

Americans as a whole, and even Americans in high office, know little of Canada, but they regard it as their closest foreign friend, almost a member of the family. Thus at the first sign of disagreement north of the border they are unduly alarmed.

Criticism which would be disregarded if it came from any other nation cuts deep when it comes from Canada.

More in sorrow than in anger Washington is ruffled by three recent developments in Canadian affairs.

First, Canada clashed publicly with the United States in the recent issue of admitting new members to the United Nations.

In that long struggle Canada won—or at least sponsored the winning formula—and the United States lost. Simultaneously Canada was making de-liberate gestures apparently in stating that the endorsement on the certificate of shares in the name of Mrs. Steele was written by Mrs. Steele. He said that on examining the endorsement, he had noted the characteristics to be "highly individual."

Both these points of friction have passed. The United Nations' decision on membership was settled by vote and cannot be altered. To avoid embarrassing its neighbor in a sensitive election year Canada will say no more about recognizing

VCs GO TO LONDON AT OTTAWA'S EXPENSE

OTTAWA (CP)—The government will pay return transportation for Canadian Victoria Cross winners to a London celebration in June marking the 100th anniversary of establishment of the award, Veterans Minister Lapointe announced today.

The Commons announcement was greeted with applause.

A total of 96 Canadians have won the VC, Commonwealth's highest award for gallantry in action. It is believed at least 35 of them are still living.

Each will be able to take one near relative with them.

If they decide to go, three local VCs will benefit. They are Major-General G. R. Peck, Col. Cyrus Peck and Cmdr. Rowland Bourke.

Six Abandon Wrecked Ship

Federal Vessel Rams Rocks In Cape St. James Blizzard

The Victoria-based tug Island Navigator and four other vessels are speeding to the southern tip of the Queen Charlotte Islands where a federal public works department vessel sank early today in one of the worst storms of the winter.

Six men were reported aboard the 82-foot Hilunga when it crashed against the rocky coast of Cape St. James, about 450 miles northwest of Victoria.

An American coast guard plane reported at 1 p.m. it had searched the area without finding any trace of the Hilunga or its crew.

PLANES JOIN HUNT
Island Tug and Barge Ltd. officials said Navigator was expected to reach the scene and commence a search for survivors about 4 p.m.

Hilunga is used by the public works department for inspection of wharves. She usually carries department engineers aboard.

Air Force Air-Sea Rescue Headquarters at Vancouver said two planes—a Dakota and a Canso—took off from the Sea Island air base shortly after 10 a.m. to help in the search. The pilots had to brave near-zero visibility to get airborne. A Comox RCAF plane also joined the search.

SEARCH AND RESCUE OFFICIALS feared that even if the crew had managed to get safely ashore, they might perish in the near-blizzard conditions that swept the area.

They said they had been in touch by radio telephone with the vessel after it ran aground and the seamen indicated at 2 a.m. they were ready to abandon ship.

FISHPACKERS ON WAY
Heading for Cape St. James, in addition to the Victoria tug, were the federal fisheries department's Kitimat, fishpackers Kimsquit and Lavalee of Vancouver, and the Westjack, a 45-foot fishboat of Skidegate.

The RCAF said the Kitimat, despite engine trouble earlier, should be the first to reach the cape.

The Island Navigator was sent to the scene from north of Queen Charlotte City.

CREWMEN LISTED
Aboard the Hilunga were Capt. H. W. Dale-Johnson of Vancouver; engineer Dave Ferguson of Vancouver; Dick Schultz of West Westminster; the cook; deckhands George Byko and John Doherty of Vancouver. The other man was not immediately identified.

Rain Tonight Will Break Cold Spell

Snow is expected to give way to rain tonight and Friday over southern Vancouver Island as a mass of warmer air moves in from the Pacific, bringing higher temperatures and pre-aging the end of Victoria's worst winter in five years.

Snow overnight varied from two to 10 inches at Island points with Campbell River recording the heaviest fall.

Official snowfall recorded at the Gonzales weather office was 3.3 inches to 10 a.m. Outlying districts recorded up to six inches according to unofficial reports.

But weatherman Bill Mackie gives assurance today that winter is over — "at least for this burst."

Official forecast calls for snow mixing with rain this evening, turning into straight rain. Friday will be cloudy with rain or showers. Gradually increasing temperatures should show a low of 30 tonight and up to 38 Friday.

Low Wednesday night and Thursday morning was 17.7 above, as against a low of 13.7 24 hours earlier. At noon the thermometer stood at 25, as against 21 at noon Wednesday.

DRIVERS BOTHERED
A light, freezing rain shortly before 7 a.m. gave many motorists trouble, as the precipitation froze as it struck windshields.

In many districts long line-ups of cars were stalled as motorists scraped off the ice.

Although driving conditions were tricky this morning, few accidents were recorded, all of a minor nature.

Campbell River's 10-inch snowfall gave school children a holiday today, but schools in the Greater Victoria area reported attendance normal.

Rumors Persist Princess To Join Catholic Church

LONDON (UP)—Published rumors that Princess Margaret, Church of England, when asked may become a convert to Roman Catholicism, spread today despite calls of an unfounded report in earlier years that King Edward VII would become a Catholic.

Nachdepesche said her decision was not connected with her unfulfilled love for Peter Townsend. But it said, without giving a source, that the Catholic Duke of Norfolk was reported to have discussed her problem last week with Pope Pius XII.

London's Daily Herald became the first Fleet Street newspaper to publish the report here.

Buckingham Palace as usual had "no comment."

Court sources in London, when asked for guidance, unqualifiedly called the rumors false and baseless.

Gaglardi Proposal Stirs Road Furore

Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi has "suggested" that chief engineer Neil McCallum, whose resignation was to take effect March 31, leave his post immediately.

The chief engineer, the Times has learned, rejected the suggestion.

The minister's move came as the furore over the resignation of five highway engineers reached a new pitch.

Mr. Gaglardi suggested earlier this week "an organized, pressurized deal" is being pressed to get men out of his department.

The minister has told at least one opposition MLA he is convinced Mr. McCallum has had something to do with the resignations of four other department engineers in the past two weeks.

"How come the Opposition knows who is resigning and I don't, and my deputy doesn't?" asked the minister.

He was referring to a prediction by William Moore (C.P., Comox) that another engineer will resign this week.

Mr. Moore asked for a complete investigation.

Mr. Gaglardi told the Times today: "I suggested to Mr. McCallum that if he wants to leave for a time for a rest, before taking his new job, it's all right with us."

LETTER TABLED TODAY?
The minister also said it's "very likely" he will table the chief engineer's resignation in the legislature this afternoon.

"I haven't quite made up my mind what procedure to follow," he said.

Mr. McCallum, it is reported, has refused to leave his position until his work is completely cleared up.

He submitted his resignation two weeks ago Wednesday.

Mr. Gaglardi's suggestion that the chief engineer leave immediately came as the department prepared for the largest highway-building program in B.C. history.

No replacement has been named for Mr. McCallum.

The chief engineer has declined all comment. He refused to give any reason for his resignation. He will go to work for an Alberta construction firm.

But he added it would take into account any changes of public opinion. If it considered it could safely abolish the death penalty it would not hesitate to propose that to parliament.

Controls Stay 2 More Years
OTTAWA (CP)—The government made clear today it plans to extend emergency transport controls for another two years.

Transport controller Roy Milner, member of the board of grain commissioners, will continue his dual operations. He took on the job of controller in 1951 in an attempt to clear a shipping bottleneck holding up essential grain and other raw material exports at the time of the Korean war.

QUEEN, DUKE EN ROUTE HOME

LAGOS, Nigeria (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh left by air for London today after their 19-day tour of this African colony.

Their airliner took off from Ikeja airport for Kano, on the edge of the Sahara Desert, where they will spend a six-hour stop-over before resuming their trip home.

Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd George made the proposal as he opened debate on capital punishment before a crowded House of Commons.

Lloyd George's proposal was believed to be an attempt to influence some of his supporters who might otherwise vote for abolition of the death penalty, which the government still considers necessary.

WILL BE "FREE VOTE"
The abolitionists have gained ground and a close vote was expected tonight. The government is making the vote a matter of conscience for its supporters. That means there will be a "free vote," with members of all parties voting as they wish.

Lloyd George said the government considers the time for the abolition of capital punishment has not come.

But he added it would take into account any changes of public opinion. If it considered it could safely abolish the death penalty it would not hesitate to propose that to parliament.

Cassiar Road Tenders Called

Department of mines today called for tenders on construction of the controversial Stewart-Cassiar road, on a section near Dease lake.

The contract will be on a machine-rental, and cost-plus basis, as in 1954 and 1955. However, in those years, no tenders were invited. The job was awarded to Wade & Wells Ltd. of Trail.

Construction of the northern mining assistance road is under investigation by a legislative committee.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series of "Know Your Teacher" articles. The articles will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

Approximately 6,000 text-books pass through the hands of Oak Bay Junior High School teacher Ken Vernon each year, and all must be accounted for at year's end.

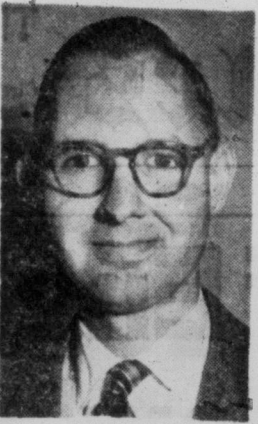

Mathematics, social studies and English specialist, it is also his responsibility to administer the department of education's free text book service for Oak Bay Junior High.

But in spite of the huge "book-keeping" chore, he thinks Oak Bay Junior is a good place to teach and the "children are encouraging to work with."

Mr. Vernon also acts as staff sponsor of "Obelisk," the school annual, and advises photo and debating clubs. Outside the school he is vice-president of Oak Bay Junior High PTA and is among teachers now taking a special Victoria College course in education.

Born in Vancouver, he obtained early education there and graduated from UBC with a BA in 1942, moving the next year to Cranbrook High to begin his career. The next year he taught at Kelowna High, West Vancouver High, Mount View High and since 1953 in Oak Bay Junior.

Through summer courses at

KEN VERNON

UBC he has been able to obtain his BEd, which he completed last year.

His free time he spends with his family at 1222 Crown Crescent (he has a son, Timothy, nine, at Cloverdale School, and daughter, Andrea, 10 months); gardening, fishing, reading or in amateur photography.

China until the polls close, thus wisely avoiding any suspicion of interference in domestic American politics. But the Chinese issue is only postponed and will emerge again, probably next year.

Secondly, the United States cannot seem to understand why its policy of dumping foodstuffs abroad has caused so much protest in Canada. Here the farm problem, though vital politically, is marginal economically. This rich nation can afford to grow foodstuffs and give them away. In Canada the resulting dislocation of world markets is more than the nation can afford; for long anyway. It is extremely difficult to persuade the American politician that the fine sale of farmstuffs is a dangerous business in Canadian terms or that Canadian protests are justified.

WILL GROW WORSE

This problem will continue and grow worse before it grows better. Its details must be told in another dispatch. Suffice it to say here that Canada faces for some time to come, probably for years, the nightmare of massive American dumping on the world market. As a result, the United States will continue to face Canadian protests. Thirdly, the United States is baffled and pained by Canada's fuel policy, which it has reason to regard as inconsistent if not foolish.

Canada exports oil to the United States. It will soon export Peace River gas through British Columbia and is trying to export Alberta gas into mid-western states. But it refuses to export electrical power; or the equivalent in water, which the United States is desperately anxious to secure.

Why, it is asked here, this apparent conflict in basic fuel policy? The question is difficult to answer in theory and will be more difficult to answer in practice. The powers of the Columbia River in British Columbia will soon become the core of a grave international disagreement—perhaps the gravest of recent times.

ISSUE STALLED

For the present, the future use of the Columbia by Canada and the United States is not being argued between Washington and Ottawa. The whole issue has been stalled while Canada investigates the possible diversion of Columbia water into the Fraser system. As soon as these surveys are complete, perhaps this year, the issue will be joined. It can be said with certainty that the United States will never willingly accept the proposed diversion but will demand, with all the pressure of its diplomacy, that water stored on the upper Columbia be allowed to flow south across the border and increase the output of power plants there.

Obviously we are heading into an extremely complex dispute, involving billions of dollars, gigantic industries and a test of neighborly goodwill on both sides of the border.

These three points of controversy are specific and calculable. More important are issues vague and incalculable. What really worries the Americans is their belief (whether true or not) that Canada is in a mood of growing nationalism. Is restive under the present trading arrangements of the North American economy, is fearful of American economic penetration and may be tempted to raise new barriers against American imports and against its own raw exports to the United States.

There is some ground for these fears. A real old-time tariff issue may be shaping up in Canadian politics as Mr. Drew returns, rather gingerly, to his Conservative protectionist policies. The Gordon Commission has found that many Canadians are alarmed by a massive import of American capital into our industries, especially Alberta oil and British Columbia timber.

In any case, Canadian criticism is generally exaggerated in Washington simply because it comes from a friend, because Americans in general know so little of Canada and because we have enjoyed some 20 years of almost unbroken harmony on the border.

When Mr. Pearson said that the period of easy, "automatic" agreement had passed, he was widely condemned here and his warning was regarded as not only mischievous but misleading. Everything shows that Mr. Pearson was right.

Prairie Cold Spell Broken

EDMONTON (CP)—The night was bitterly cold over Western Canada, but the weather forecaster had good news today—the back of the cold spell "is definitely broken."

Temperatures ranged from 22 to 42 below zero in settled areas of the Prairies overnight and on the Pacific coast heavy snow accompanied the cold, bringing two inches of snow to Vancouver.

The forecaster said today a new mild front is moving in from the north and by early morning it had shown signs of its warming effects. Fort St. John, in northeastern British Columbia, was up to 13 above by 7 a.m. and Grande Prairie, where the overnight low was 29 below, had climbed to five above.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department said today the United States is shipping 18 M-41 Walker Bulldog tanks to Saudi Arabia.

He said the shipment will not add to the danger of upsetting the Middle East arms balance created by Russia's sale of $80,000,000 worth of planes, tanks and artillery to Egypt.

Behind the cold wave lurks the spectre of famine. Crop losses already have run into millions of dollars. Spanish fruit growers estimate their losses at around $30,000,000.

IN PARLIAMENT

Opposition Continues To Hit Grain Loans

(From Times News Services)

The government has turned down an opposition bid to have Prairie farm organizations tell a Commons committee their views on the federal plan of guaranteed bank loans on farm-stored grain.

Victor Quelch, Social Credit farm spokesman, made the suggestion Wednesday as debate continued on a bill to ratify the plan, begun last Nov. 15.

Mr. Quelch said that if the bill were sent to committee, representatives of western farm groups could be called "so we can find what they really feel" about the measure.

Finance Minister Harris, government House leader, replied with a flat "no."

Opposition members, who have criticized the legislation through 5½ days of debate, contend the great majority of prairie organizations want cash advances on farm-stored grain to alleviate the west's financial problems.

Trade Minister Howe has said that by the bill the government did exactly what it was asked to do by western farm organizations.

The bank loans on farm-stored grain, guaranteed by the government, are for a maximum of $1,500 at 5 per cent interest.

CCF Motion Seeks to Block Issue

Debate continues today. Before the House is a CCF motion, presented Tuesday, to deny second reading—approval in principle—and refer the issue to the agriculture committee. If adopted, the motion would kill the bill this session.

Fred S. Zaplinsky (CCF, Dauphin) said the bill is "an attempt to get out from under." It would shift responsibility to the banks for financing cash short farmers, and shift responsibility to farmers for the cost of the plan.

A. M. Nicholson (CCF, MacKenzie) said he resents a statement by Mr. Howe that the opposition is trying to filibuster.

Senator Nancy Hodges Supports Bill

Neither measure would change the grounds for divorce—adultery, in all provinces except Nova Scotia, where cruelty also applies. The explanatory notes of both stressed that no divorce courts would be established in Quebec or Newfoundland, long a sore point in other attempts at reform. The Senate bill, which Exchequer Court divorce jurisdiction would be exercised only at Ottawa.

Senator Aseltine, whose attempt last session to widen the grounds for divorce was voted down by the Senate, 37 to 20, did not speak on his bill, seconded by Senator Nancy Hodges (L. British Columbia). He set Feb. 22 as the day he will open debate.

In the Commons Mr. Knowles also made no explanation beyond the customary introductory words. His measure was added to a long list of private member's legislation awaiting discussion there.

The government is delaying shipment of 1,750 shells for 25-pounder field artillery pending

Washington talks by the Western Big Three on Middle East arms shipments. The shells are destined for Israel.

External Affairs Minister Pearson made the statement Wednesday in reply to a recent question by Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary, North).

He said the cabinet decided to "suspend action" on the shipment.

An official at the Israel embassy here said recently the artillery shells, valued at $30,500, were to be shipped from Halifax in the near future.

Plans for a $30,000,000 pipeline to carry oil and gas hydrocarbons by-products from Alberta to Winnipeg were disclosed Wednesday in the Senate.

Senator Thomas A. Crerar (L. Manitoba), sponsor of a measure to incorporate Hydrocarbons Pipeline Ltd., said the company may eventually extend the projected line from Winnipeg to Fort William.

The line was being proposed by Winnipeg men and its head office would be at Calgary. It could carry propane and butane.

Washington (AP) — Investigating senators received testimony Wednesday that Russia is buying from Britain war-strategic copper wire produced from metal mined with U.S. financial aid.

The testimony, by Jerome Adlerman, assistant counsel to the Senate investigations subcommittee, marked the start of potentially stormy public hearings.

In an opening statement, chairman John McClellan (Dem. Ark.) accused government officials of withholding information about what he termed mounting free world sales of strategic materials to Russia's "war machine."

One objective of the hearings, McClellan said, is to show whether the U.S. keeps many items under embargo to the Soviet bloc but has consented to sale of the same items to the Russians by Allied nations.

Adlerman testified Russia is "desperately" short of copper, and is getting "substantial quantities" from Britain with U.S. consent.

He said "we must assume" that some copper mined in Rhodesia with the help of U.S. foreign aid ended up in Russia in the form of wire fabricated in Britain.

Medical MLA Castigates Mrs. Arsens' Cancer Cure

By TOM GOULD Times Legislative Reporter

Mrs. Lydia Arsens (SC-Victoria), who told the legislature Monday there is a known cure for cancer, was blasted Wednesday by an angry medical man.

"I only hope some of this stuff won't cause people to delay in getting proper medical advice," said Dr. Larry Giovando, (Ind-Nanaimo-The Islands).

Dr. Giovando is considered one of the most genial MLAs, and his angry denunciation caught the house by surprise.

"I'm so mad I'll blow up," he said at one point.

Mrs. Arsens is considered a leader of B.C.'s anti-fluoridation movement. She is on record as opposing vaccination, and pasteurization.

"We can't allow such trash or rubbish to come out of this legislature," said Dr. Giovando.

Mrs. Arsens leaped up and down, asking permission to ask questions, demanding a debate "on the largest platform you can find," constantly interrupting.

SIT DOWN

Dr. Giovando dismissed her with a loud "sit down!" and listened for a change!

"I have no objection to any lay person expressing these ideas (opposing various scientific developments), but she makes statements as fact which are not true."

Dr. Giovando asked Health Minister Eric Martin to state whether the policy supports Mrs. Arsens' stand on various health matters, particularly her "cancer cure."

"Don't drag me into that," replied Mr. Martin.

Mrs. Arsens "cure" for cancer, one of the major killers, calls for feeding patients more potassium, and eliminating sodium. It was described as nonsense by cancer experts.

CONTROL IT

Dr. Giovando, who has spent years in post-graduate studies, said medical science cannot claim to cure cancer.

"We can arrest it, but we can't cure it," he said.

He said some people "who are in the last stages are desperate—and they will try anything. I only hope they seek proper medical advice."

"You made statements which could jeopardize the lives of a lot of people," he said, waving a finger in the Victoria member's direction.

"That's what you are doing right now," Mrs. Arsens muttered.

"The best medical brains haven't been able to find a cure, and I'm sure you haven't that many brains," he replied angrily.

"This government spends a lot of money on cancer research, and I guess she would suggest we take that money back and put it to some other use," said the doctor.

"That's right," said Mrs. Arsens.

On fluoridation, Dr. Giovando quoted statistical results of the Brantford, Ont., 10-year experiment. He said it resulted in a 60 per cent decrease in tooth cavities and missing teeth in school children.

Cabinet members sat through his speech in silence.

Mrs. Arsens, in her frequent public appearances on the subject of fluoridation, terms it a "poison."

Dr. Giovando mentioned other "poisons" that have relieved pain and suffering: Strychnine, arsenic, cantharides and aluminum.

RCAF JET FORCED DOWN BY U.S. FIGHTERS

OTTAWA (CP)—Three American jet fighters recently forced down a Canadian CF-100 jet interceptor in Ohio when the U.S. air defence command could not identify it, it was learned today.

The CF-100 was one of three being flown from Toronto to Florida for evaluation tests by the U.S. Air Force. The three were ahead of flight schedule when one of them lost its radio over Ohio.

Movement of the three long-range CF-100s to a U.S. base for tests was to have been kept a strict secret. The RCAF kept the move under tight security wraps.

300 Buck Gaglardi On Deas Tunnel Plan

(CP and BUP Dispatches) VANCOUVER—More than 300 Surrey and Delta residents Wednesday night at North Surrey opposed Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi's plan to build a tunnel under the Fraser River delta. They favored instead a new bridge there.

James Wilson, executive director of the lower mainland regional planning board, said the bridge they proposed for Deas Island would serve only 20 per cent of the residents in extreme southwest B.C. A bridge at Port Mann or Annacis Island, he added, would accommodate 90 per cent of lower mainland traffic.

He added "we have an important duty to get the people out of the Lower Mainland if the need arises. I would like to know how the people would get off the lower mainland today if they had to."

Why Are They Quitting?

RESIGNATIONS CONTINUE TO flow in to the provincial department of highways from key engineering personnel. In recent months a similar trend has occurred in the B.C. Forest Service.

Two vital departments are now so severely strained through loss of top level experts that their ability to do the work required of them is placed in doubt.

The Legislature has been informed of these developments amid an air of mounting uneasiness.

The conventional explanation has been that engineers and foresters are being lured out of government service by the higher financial rewards of private industry.

Perhaps this is a factor in the exodus of trained personnel from the highways department. By itself it seems an inadequate reason for that exodus. Reports persist that many men are leaving because they are unwilling to submit to conditions which exist in the department.

The minister of highways is described in certain opposition quarters as the most interfering minister in history. One of the projects on which he is said to have overruled advice of his experts is called a "triumph of imagination over engineering."

It is an open secret that the letter of resignation to the minister from his chief engineer, Mr. Neil McCallum, spelled out some of the conditions to which trained and competent men are unwilling to be subjected. Mr. Gagliardi has not made that letter public. As long as he declines to table it, that conviction will persist.

The minister has offered comment on one of the resignations submitted this week. "I can't understand it," he says. Perhaps he can't. But if the matter is beyond his comprehension, then he might enlist outside aid to achieve some understanding.

With the province undergoing boom conditions at present there is, of course, a tremendous magnet drawing competent men from the ranks of government service to more highly paid jobs in private enterprise.

Under earlier administrations, however, there has been a strong sense of loyalty demonstrated by senior personnel which has kept members in public service in spite of the attractions offered by private interests. Something is apparently weakening that loyalty and it is not entirely higher pay by industry.

In the B.C. Forest Service the loss of experienced foresters has been a matter of general comment at the Sloan Commission hearings. The Powell River brief and that presented by MacMillan & Bloedel cited figures. Powell River reported that since 1952 the Forest Service has lost 39 professional foresters and engineers, 29 since the beginning of 1954, "and the rate of resignations is increasing."

No one denies that higher pay from industry is an important element in this development. But it is not the only factor. It is reasonable to assume that such incidents as the Stewart-Cassiar road trouble are ingredients in the disenchantment of top level officials with the department.

And it seems logical to ask if the intrusion of certain personalities has destroyed the cohesion of these branches of the public service.

The question demands an answer because B.C. just cannot afford to lose the men of high ability it has been losing. The highway program and the forestry tasks cannot be carried on without them.

If Mr. Gagliardi is going to profess bewilderment on the issue, Premier Bennett had better come up with some convincing answers. The public's confidence has already been seriously shaken and is not restored by continuing resignations.

We Should Be Consulted

MAYOR PERCY SCURRAH HAS raised an important point in his protest to Ottawa against the proposed new federal customs building to be erected on the site of the old post office at the head of the Causeway.

The Mayor points out that whereas the Federal Government presumably consults with the Capital City Planning authorities of Ottawa when construction of a public building there is under consideration, no such co-operation has been offered to the Capital Regional Planning Board or the city planning board of Victoria. The building decision has been made, and the type of building selected, entirely by federal officials.

Obviously such a system is unacceptable and betrays a lack of appreciation by the federal public works department that should be rectified.

Local objections to the proposed building—and they are advanced by planning board spokesmen, architects and businessmen—are based mainly on the use of the site and the appearance of the structure that is planned.

The old post office site is among the most prominent in the community, overlooking the Inner Harbor and forming part of one of the most attractive city entrances in North America. The other components are the Legislative Buildings and the Empress Hotel, both landscaped, and the Belmont Building.

The suggestion is made that the old post office site should be cleared and landscaped to match the rest of the harbor, or that a smaller public building be provided which would lend itself to landscaped surroundings.

The planned federal building, while no doubt efficient and economical, presents the severe lines of a cube and would be entirely out of harmony with the harbor environment.

Mayor Scurrah raises also the consideration of parking space, already a serious problem in the downtown section and apparently not provided for in the federal plans.

Since the question of proper development of Victoria as a worthy capital city region is now receiving the close attention of provincial and civic authorities, it would be unfortunate if federal intervention should strike an unharmonious note. The situation obviously calls for a co-operative approach by federal officials—at least the equal of that which they no doubt are offering Ottawa capital city planners.

Out on a Political Limb

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER HAS said that he will rely on his "own feelings" rather than medical reports in deciding whether or not he will run for a second term. It is to be hoped that he will stand by that determination, for in the long run only he can measure his capacity to endure the gruelling ordeal of another four years in office.

The doctors who yesterday announced their belief that Mr. Eisenhower was physically fit for five or ten years in "a very active position of great responsibility" gave a verdict that was much more important politically than medically. Because of that preponderant political significance there will be many who question the propriety of the doctors' statement.

Beneath Contempt

IN THE MIDST OF BRITAIN'S mortal struggle during the Second World War, Nazi radio propaganda, the voice of Lord Haw-Haw included, swept into the island fortress unhindered. When it was proposed that the enemy broadcasts should be jammed, Churchill's reply was that the Nazi outpourings were beneath contempt. No Briton would believe them, hence they did not constitute a menace.

No more devastating defence could be devised. Complete public freedom to hear was a weapon that was not available to the Nazis, nor is it to any dictatorship. For the first concern of established totalitarianism is to regulate what the people hear—and hence what they think. Only a democracy, which is based on majority public opinion, can afford to let that opinion be freely formed.

That is something to remember as the cold war goes into its new propaganda phase. It is something to be impressed on those countries which now find themselves in the position of being wooed by the two ideologies that split the world. It is a concept to be explained to peoples who heretofore have not enjoyed freedom of speech as we know it, and who should not be allowed to fall for communist double-talk that such a freedom is not important.

IN HIS ATTEMPT TO END SPEECH-READING IN THE HOUSE, SPEAKER RENE BEAUDOIN DESCRIBED A FEW CHOICE EXAMPLES WHICH WE THOUGHT SHOULD BE PRESERVED IN PICTURE FORM

Schools and the Deep South

By WALTER LIPMANN, From Washington

THERE IS mounting evidence of grave trouble ahead over integration in the public schools of the Southern states. For in recent weeks we have come nearer to the question which can divide the country dangerously. Is the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court to be put into effect gradually and with the eventual consent of the leaders of Southern opinion or is the Federal Government to be called upon to enforce integration against the resistance of the South?

This question poses as fateful a dilemma as any internal American question that has arisen for several generations. It arouses great human passions which cannot be reconciled, which can only be assuaged and accommodated in this generation. They are passions which boil up quickly into violence, and they can be kept within bounds only when and only while there is great wisdom and resolution in the leaders of the country.

If they start on the path of coercion, the authority of the executive power will be engaged and new measures of coercion will be demanded to uphold that authority. For unless the Federal Government is going to confess that it is beaten, it must, keeping the path of Federal enforcement—become more and more coercive.

No one should doubt that the attempt at Federal enforcement will intensify and harden the resistance of the South. Those who are disposed to try to work out integration gradually will resent the Federal government's efforts to coerce them. The problem of integration will become progressively more insoluble in the South, the racial passions will become increasingly sharp, the sectional feeling increasingly disruptive.

Let us stop and think before we let irresponsible politicians push us into the whirlpool.

FEDERAL JUDGMENT

The way things are developing is a reason for asking ourselves whether the decision of the Supreme Court does not need to be supplemented. As it stands now, the question of what constitutes a "prompt and reasonable start towards full compliance" is left to the judgment of the Federal courts.

Now what would be a prompt and reasonable start, say, in the District of Columbia might well be impossible in Mississippi. Success in putting into effect the principle of the decision requires a program which must vary with local conditions.

It is, for example, an enormous step forward when universities in the South admit Negro students. And it would be the part of wisdom in a state like Alabama to regard admission to the university as being for present purposes "a prompt and reasonable start."

The question is whether through some sort of council of eminent citizens, guiding principles might be agreed upon which would give to American opinion a standard around which it could rally.

(Copy, 1956, N.Y. Herald Tribune Inc.)

Consider, for example, the Powell Amendment which would withhold Federal aid from states or school districts that do not integrate their schools.

Let no one suppose that the Southern states will give in and accept integrated schools because some Federal money is withheld from them. To suppose that they will give in is to mistake the temper of the South, particularly the temper of the Deep South.

What, then, are Rep. Joseph L. Martin and Governor Harriman going to propose next, once they find that withholding money does not induce the Southern states to yield?

NEW MEASURES

If they start on the path of coercion, the authority of the executive power will be engaged and new measures of coercion will be demanded to uphold that authority. For unless the Federal Government is going to confess that it is beaten, it must, keeping the path of Federal enforcement—become more and more coercive.

No one should doubt that the attempt at Federal enforcement will intensify and harden the resistance of the South. Those who are disposed to try to work out integration gradually will resent the Federal government's efforts to coerce them. As Our Readers See It

SOCIALISM IN BUSINESS

The operations of the CCF government of Saskatchewan in the area of private business are illuminating.

The crown corporations organized by the CCF government have never paid any interest on the money loaned to them.

Six of the original crown corporations have been discontinued. Five of these lost large sums of money.

The Fish Board was wound up in 1949 after accumulating operating deficits of $364,300. The Fish Board was replaced by the Fish Marketing Service, which up to the end of 1954 had accumulated a deficit of $179,952.

The shoe factory and the tannery were closed down and the workers dismissed in 1948, with operating deficits of $82,700 for the shoe factory and $73,000 for the tannery. In 1952 the tannery was leased to Continental Leather Ltd., which was given an option to buy the property for $45,000, about half the amount the Department of Public Works had paid for it. To prepare this property for leasing the CCF government spent a further $40,000.

Then the government loaned Continental Leather $12,600 from the province's Industrial Development Fund and the provincial treasurer signed further bank loans of $53,000. The CCF government put up a total of $306,800 of public funds. Of this $41,000 was recovered, with the public treasury out $265,000 on this account.

Would Messrs. Armstrong and Sterling say that the people of Britain, New Zealand and Australia were altogether stupid for turning out socialism after many years of trial? And what have they to say about the failures in Saskatchewan?

HUMANE METHODS

It is very encouraging to read of the firm stand taken by Archbishop Harold E. Sexton on behalf of himself and the Anglican Church in the matter of merciful treatment for animals, and the active measures taken by him in advocating the adoption of humane slaughtering methods.

May we hope that other churches will follow his lead.

Man, when created, was made responsible for his actions, and set over the other living creatures, but God our Father still watches over them, as we are told by His Son, Jesus Christ in St. Luke XII, verse 6: "Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?"

If then every creature is individually known to its Maker, and the Same Creator teaches us to be merciful and compassionate in all our dealings, should we not treat all His living creatures mercifully?

Then let us at once have laws brought in, and enforced, to ensure humane methods of slaughtering animals in our province, instead of the present brutally cruel methods. We could each one of us help by writing to our member of parliament and asking him to do all in his power to forward the enacting of such laws.

FOREST COVENANT

To those who burn the daylight oil a tree is a tree. Yet not alone a tree. A glorious heritage man finds upon his doorstep, ready and ripe for the harvesting which in British Columbia is of major importance.

If today we look at B.C. we cannot help but hear the echoes of the power-saw and cutting edge addressed to our most valuable crop. And we cannot help but hear the whispering which wells up from the hearts of the trees themselves.

It does not lie within their scope to work for us but they can work with us—if we let them. And the great danger today is that we won't let them. That we shall cut them down as if they had no spirit, no inner speech, with which to proclaim that if we want to harvest our trees in good supply we shall have to see our acts reflected in them and their status—today and tomorrow.

And if we are to burn the daylight oil with that degree of enlightenment so necessary today, we shall not fail to realize a tree is more than just a tree, an inanimate object, a material conception of wealth for the moment.

The time has come to look upon timber as something represented in ourselves, something loved and conserved with due care and consideration; something above the temptation to set aside the everlasting covenant of the forest that we gather up the fragments that remain that nothing may be lost.

Not fanciful figures alone but the hard rock of human destiny should govern a slogan which might well be: A good tree grows in B.C.

May we make it so!

WOMEN COULD DO MUCH

On page 2 of the Feb. 3 issue of your valuable paper I note an article captioned, "Installation Buyers Gouged, CCF'er Says." The details make astounding reading in this day and age of progress. To quote some items: "Profits are enormous. In 1948 the (named) corporation made a profit of $843,000. In 1954 it jumped to $4,401,000. (The named) corporation netted $53,000 profit in 1948 and $6,837,000 in 1954." The article also quotes some interest charges as high as 54 per cent.

One thing I believe this city needs in the worst way is some good, intelligent, strong-willed women of the type of Mrs. Pankhurst, who through trials and tribulations galore, eventually secured the vote for women and a fuller recognition of women's capabilities when it comes to tackling problems successfully.

Some lieutenants, carrying a battle-axe like Carrie Nation, could show they mean business, too. The need for some watchdog agency is great, otherwise what benefit will accrue to old age pensioners at this anticipated increase of $5 per month.

DISGRACE

If the conditions stated in a folder titled "What You Don't Know About Hamburger and Pork Chops," issued by The Canadian Council for Animals' Welfare, Victoria, and described as facts—are true—it reveals a deplorable state of affairs prevalent in Canadian abattoirs that are a shocking disgrace to our civilization. This shameful situation is the concern of every consumer of meats, especially animal lovers, and one that fairly screams for immediate investigation by the highest authorities.

Bringing It Up to Standard

We recently commented in your columns (from a neutral viewpoint) that the Citizens' Committee for Fluoridation would assist a puzzled public if certain points were clarified. We have now received a publication advancing the claims for fluoridation, issued by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.

This elaborately detailed document gives research figures on child tooth decay in age groups from six to fourteen in three Ontario towns over the past ten years: Sarnia (no fluorides), Stratford (natural fluorides) and Brantford (added fluorides).

These official figures show that fluorides harden tooth enamel and that the least decay occurred in Brantford, somewhat more decay in Stratford, while Sarnia, with no fluorides, ran amok.

Briefly, it seems that communities served over years by spring well water containing natural fluorides have less tooth decay. One such community, this time in Italy, having as high as 8 parts per million fluorides in spring well water has excellent teeth without noticeable ill effects in any other way.

It is claimed that the addition of 1.2 parts per million (the recommended amount) to surface reservoirs such as the Victoria supply, is not to be regarded as an "addition" at all but merely bringing our water up to the standard of mineral water from natural spring wells.

The cost is stated to be negligible in that one visit to the dentist would cover the per capita cost of fluoridation for 25 years. It seems that those taxpayers not likely to benefit (over the adolescent age) should "grin and bear it" for the sake of the future health of the community, as they do in paying for other public health services such as vaccination.

The point that all the water is fluoridated, with wastage on gardens, car washing and commercial uses, is offset by the control factor at source being so necessary. The 1 to 1.2 parts per million is so important, with laboratory exactness, (no more and no less), as to rule out individual addition of fluorides to food by liquid or tablet, particularly so since the absorption should commence at birth or even in pre-natal care.

These irrefutable facts from the highest medical and dental authorities point to the urgent need and since they claim that there are no ill effects in the controlled volume to be added it could be voted for with confidence.

A very different thing to the local claim of adding potassium for cancer, by a lady MLA.

War Over Weather

(New York Times)

THE Soviet Government has protested to the United States, Turkey and West Germany against the release from the outside world of both official meteorological and unofficial "freedom campaign" balloons which penetrate its own airspace and that of its satellite colonies.

The Soviet note to the United States deals first with the large Moby Dick weather balloons sent up by the American Air Force and Navy, some of which may have strayed over Soviet-controlled territory.

But the context of the note makes it plain that the Soviets are primarily concerned over the barrage of "freedom leaflets" scattered over Soviet-dominated countries from miniature balloons sent up by the private Free Europe Committee operating from West Germany.

The question of air sovereignty may involve some fine points in international law. But legal experts of the West German Government have ruled that there is no law forbidding the release of a balloon by any person from his own private property, and the Government has therefore permitted the private freedom crusade to continue.

As for the meteorological balloons, it is true that some of them are equipped for aerial photography, but this equipment is for the purpose of recording atmospheric conditions, cloud formations and other data to be gathered at high altitudes in preparation for the 1957-58 Geophysical Year.

Since the Soviets have agreed to participate in that scientific enterprise, "it would be more in keeping with their professions if they returned the data recorded by any stray balloons they may capture rather than protested against their use."

Finally, as regards aviation safety, American tests have shown that any danger to airplanes from the balloons is infinitesimally small, and American authorities have long made extensive use of such balloons over American territory without any mishap.

These considerations make it evident that the Soviets have launched their anti-balloon campaign for other reasons than those given. The previous mention of the air routes to Berlin as among those most menaced suggests that, among other things, this may represent propaganda preparation for action in that area.

A Fine Record

UNTIL the other day, I never knew that Ruth Draper had recorded any of her famous characterizations. I only know it now because a friendly reader told me that "The Italian Lesson" had been broadcast on a morning program from CBU and that, if I listened on the following Friday, I'd hear the other side of the record played. (My special thanks to this unknown reader, as I have no way of reaching her except through this column.)

Ruth

I listened to the Friday morning program, and heard "The Three Generations in a Court of Family Relations." But, unfortunately, I couldn't listen to "The Italian Lesson" when CBU broadcast it again because of all the requests from listeners.

Since, then, however, I've tracked the record down, and listened happily to both sides. (It's a long playing record and costs $4.80 to buy.) It is, I gather, the only record Ruth Draper made. At least, it's the only one listed in the catalogue. (If any reader knows of others, please tell me and I'll pass the good news on.)

For the benefit of those who haven't heard it, "The Italian Lesson" is a satirical sketch of a selfish woman of the world who is trying to take an Italian lesson from a visiting teacher. She never does get beyond the first few lines of the piece she's trying to translate because she is constantly interrupted by the telephone, by her children, by the cook, by all the constant demands on a rich society woman who serves on endless committees, who gives systematically, though not sympathetically, to charity, and takes courses on this and that to fill up her day and to compensate her for her unhappy marriage to a man who simply bores her stiff.

Listening to the record, I could almost see the different people—the husband-phonetic about his golf clubs, the rather tiresome children, the headmistress discussing the little boy's difficulty with mathematics, the cook coming for her orders, the gossiping friend ringing up about the terrible woman on the committee and how they must get rid of her somehow.

It's a savage satire, but a tone of forgiveness runs through it. You have the feeling that the woman might have been quite different in other circumstances and married to the man who rings her up just near the end. For Ruth Draper has a heart and she never closes it completely.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

It Must Be News

LONDON—Neville Wilson of Toronto's McEae drive writes: "I subscribe to the weekly edition of the London Evening Standard and am struck by the fact that Canada gets so little publicity in it."

A newsletter from the U.S.A. is a regular feature and one would have thought that a similar feature for Canada would appear in a newspaper owned by a Canadian. Could you ask them the reason for this?

I phoned the editor of the Evening Standard and read Wilson's letter to him. "I'll mull that over and call you back," he said. Later he was on the phone to me with his official explanation. The Evening Standard, he said, was a London metropolitan newspaper concerned with the affairs of London and such international news as would interest its readers.

A weekly Paris newsletter was carried because, presumably, Londoners were interested in the metropolitan life of that nearby capital. They did not run a regular U.S. newsletter but drew on their New York news bureau for news and comment as the occasion arose. They carried any Canadian story which they felt to be of interest to Londoners.

Although the editor of the Evening Standard did not say this, in all fairness to Lord Beaverbrook it must be said that despite his strong Canadian associations he does not let that cloud his judgement as regards the type of news that appears in his columns. Because the owner of a London paper was born in, say,

"The Three Generations" is on quite another plane and in quite a different mood. But, once more, the artist is just as great. You almost see the three women—the old woman of nearly 80, talking in heavy Jewish accents of her wicked granddaughter, Rosie who wastes her money and dances all the time, and runs around with wild companions, Rosie, she says, wants to marry. And the young man is no good. He drinks. And Rosie should wait. She should look after her mother and grandmother.

Then you hear the mother, aged 47, sick and tired and bereft of hope. Yes, three children she had. But one son has tuberculosis. He's in a sanatorium. The other son, he ran away. No, she doesn't know where he is. He ran away. No, her husband's dead. Dead for fourteen years. Yes, she did work. For 12 years she worked in a box factory. But now she has had trouble with her heart. She can't work no more. They couldn't live if it wasn't for Rosie's wages. Rosie is too young to marry. She doesn't know what she's like. And she owes her mother something. She owes it for her education and for the course at business school.

And then you hear Rosie, giggly and common at first, but growing in stature as she speaks of the home she's found for the two older women. Its beautiful, she says, with all its pictures and its cretonne drapes and chairs. You sense her instinctive love of beauty, though there's been little beauty in her life. You feel for her in her quick defence of her young man. You have to admire her courage and her hopeful faith. It's a sad and sombre piece. But it grows upon one. To me, it's unforgettable.

The third sketch on the record is of a Scottish immigrant girl saying goodbye to her shipboard friends as they disembark at New York. As she says her goodbyes, you hear about the young man she's come out to marry. He left Scotland three years earlier, and now he has a fine place, 35 acres, etc. She's afraid of missing him in the crowd. The last few lines are so moving that I simply sat there, trying hard to blink my tears away.

People who've seen Ruth Draper on the stage will know that I'm not being over-the-top. They know about her compassionate knowledge of human nature. About her ability to portray women in all stations of life. They know her as the greatest artist in her field.

I'm thankful that I didn't miss this record. It's bound, I think, to appeal to anyone, no matter what their background happens to be.

"You make statements that jeopardize the lives of hundreds," he shouted, pointing out the way in which assertions such as Mrs. Arsens' led cancer sufferers to quacks and set at naught the work of honest research.

Profit-Sharing Union Pacts Urged By Socred

Trade unions should seek profit-sharing agreements with industry, Herbert Bruch (SC-Esquimalt) said in the legislature Wednesday.

Mr. Bruch suggested profit-sharing plans as an alternative to wage increases.

Such a plan would give workers more incentive to work for their own benefit, and fewer companies would go bankrupt if the workers had a direct interest in them, he said.

Mr. Bruch said wage increases are followed by price increases, with little benefit to the worker.

TREATED WELL He also told the House civil servants are receiving good treatment under Social Credit.

In an obvious reference to the resignations of several top men in the highways department, he said: "If a few happen to resign, that's their privilege."

"One thing, heads didn't roll when Social Credit took over," he said. "They have been treated fairly."

"I have in past years, seen some work by some engineers for which they would have been asked for their resignations."

An opposition MLA asked: "Is that the reason they quit? Because they weren't doing a good job?"

"They are doing a good job and you know it," replied Mr. Bruch.

Tolmie Summit Plan Approved

The Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee Wednesday approved in principle a $25,000 plan for the development of the summit of Mount Tolmie Park.

The plan was submitted by Max Zabel, representing the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the project. A parking lot and ramp observation platform are envisaged.

Mr. Zabel said the Chamber of Commerce would work to arrange the financing of the $25,000 project if the plan met with the approval of both the city and Saanich councils.

UNIQUE VIEWPOINT "I can assure this park will be a beauty spot," said Mr. Zabel. "The view from Mount Tolmie is second to none in North America."

Mr. Zabel said a tearoom was not included in the plan because of opposition by some Saanich residents to any form of commercialization in the park.

The parks committee agreed to recommend the project to both the city and Saanich councils.

Details of the project were shown to the committee by Roderick Clack, architect. He said the park could be developed in three stages. The parking lot would accommodate about 30 cars and would cost about $10,000, he said.

Mr. Clack said the laminated wood ramp would extend over the road and would cost another $10,000. An additional $5,000 would be spent on landscaping, he said.

Speaking in favor of the plan, Reeve Arthur Ash said the plan would improve the park and would be an asset to the residents in the area.

Post Office TV Plans Termed Misconception

The post office department has labelled as "complete misconception" labor charges against use of television "spotters" in post offices to guard against pilfering.

Victoria District Trades and Labor Council recently supported Peterborough, Ont., Trades and Labor Council in its condemnation of the practice in Peterborough where TV cameras are being used experimentally.

Unionists considered the mechanical spotters an affront to the integrity of post office workers, and the first step towards a "big brother" police state.

A letter from the post office department read at the labor council Wednesday explained TV cameras are in use experimentally in an effort to replace the more expensive to operate observation galleries, which have been in use across Canada 60 years. (The new Victoria post office has "spotter" facilities.)

Said retail clerks' delegate John Aubrey:

"If they are used to check the diligence of employees, then we're against the idea."

"If they check to see whether a man stands on one leg or the other, or whether he uses two hands or one to sort mail, we protest. Soon a man will be charged 15 cents a sneeze."

Council agreed to inquire whether the use of TV would be confined solely to check pilfering as formerly done by observers in secret galleries.

Library Estimates Of $173,241 Passed By Board

Estimates totalling $173,241 for the operation of the Victoria Public Library for 1956 were approved unanimously by the library board Wednesday.

This year's library budget is $4,187 lower than last year's estimate of $177,428.

The estimates will be submitted to city council for approval before costs of operating the library are divided between the four municipalities.

Largest expenditure in this year's estimates is $125,141 in wages for 57 members of the library staff. The figure represents an increase of about $10,000 above the 1955 wage budget.

Courthouse Plans In Double Negative

"I Will Not Say That a Start Will Not Be Made," Says Chant

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant Wednesday declined to state whether a start will be made on Victoria's long-promised new courthouse in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

"My only statement is that I would not say a start will not be made," said the minister.

"We would rather surprise than promise," he told newsmen after his speech in the Legislature.

Proceeding with all possible haste.

The building does not appear in a list of projects on which planning is now underway in the drawing office," nor does it appear in another list of projects on which funds will be spent this year.

He told the House "Victoria and other areas are in great need of new buildings, including court houses. We have all these matters in view, and are

BCHIS SHOULD BE EXTENDED, SAYS BRUCH

Health Minister Eric Martin was asked in the Legislature Wednesday to extend the period of BCHIS coverage for persons leaving the province and then returning, to provide fuller coverage for dependents of servicemen.

Herbert Bruch (SC—Esquimalt) said the period of coverage should be increased from one year to "two, or two and one-half years," to provide coverage for families for service-men who are transferred to other provinces to take courses.

Tired Members Hoist Cassiar Road Probe

A meeting of the legislative committee investigating the Stewart-Cassiar road was cancelled because chairman Tom Bate (SC—Vancouver-Point Grey) thought members were too tired.

The meeting was to have been held at 8:30 this morning. However, the House sat until 11 Wednesday night, and Mr. Bate circulated a note notifying members of the cancellation. Next meeting is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Friday.

New Victoria Film To Get C of C Study

Possibilities of making a new documentary film of Victoria will be discussed by the Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group at a meeting next Monday in the Strathcona Hotel at 6 p.m.

One suggestion is that the film should revolve around the history of Victoria Symphony Orchestra with shots in color of the orchestra performing in Butchart's Gardens.

It is proposed that the film, if practicable, should be supplied to television stations in the United States.

BEAVER LAKE CAMPAIGN

City-Wide Support Asked in Park Bid

Members of Elk Lake Ratepayers' Association Wednesday endorsed a plan to set up a city-wide organization to support the development of a provincial park at Beaver Lake.

David Carey, secretary, said the association will seek the support of PTA groups, ratepayers organizations, the women's council and social clubs to develop the city-owned Beaver Lake site as a first-class recreational area for the people of Greater Victoria.

The association reiterated its opposition to the erection of a proposed race track and exhibition on the site on the grounds.

The race track project was proposed by the Vancouver Island Turf Club last year but was opposed by Saanich council which refused to rezone the area for commercial or race track purposes.

The club is expected to apply again to Saanich council for permission to construct a race track on the site.

Winnipeg Best Comparison For Auditorium

Spokane Set-Up Different — Birley

Victoria should not be influenced too much by Spokane Coliseum in planning an auditorium for this city, architect Pat Birley told a meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors Wednesday.

"Spokane has a population of more than 700,000," Mr. Birley said, "and it draws audiences from north, south, east and west. Ours is a different kind of location and we are unlikely to draw people from any area farther away than Nanaimo."

Furthermore, the Spokane Coliseum essentially is a place of entertainment. We are more concerned with building an auditorium that will attract conventions to Victoria. That is where our revenue will come from."

Mr. Birley suggested Winnipeg might offer a better example of the kind of auditorium needed in Victoria.

J. Courtney Haddock, chairman of the Chamber's auditorium committee, said no facet of Spokane Coliseum was overlooked during the recent survey organized by the Chamber.

He emphasized that the coliseum actually made a profit of $47,000 during the first year of its operation and paid amusement tax to the city at the rate of 5 per cent.

Since the amusement tax here is 10 per cent the city would receive proportionately more.

Most Industrial Capital From Insurance Firms

With $3,000,000,000 worth of life insurance written in Canada each year, insurance provides more capital for industrial development than any other business, Victoria underwriters were told Wednesday.

At a Pacific Club luncheon meeting of Victoria and Island Underwriters' Association, national president Charles Dunn, Regina, said local insurance salesmen should feel privileged to play an important part in Canada's development.

The country's 10,000 men and women insurance underwriters today gather together more capital than banks and investment houses, he said.

Uranium Finds in Labrador Said to Rival Beaverlodge

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (BUP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood says uranium discoveries have been made in Labrador that will rank in importance with those at Beaverlodge and Blind River.

Smallwood said the British Newfoundland Corporation and a Prohibitor Limited of Toronto had been assigned large concessions by the Newfoundland government.

Both firms are waiting for the spring break-up so that an intensive drive can be started to drill the known occurrences and carry on a "greatly accelerated program" of prospecting.

National Pete Moves Up 30c

TORONTO (CP)—Low-priced mines continued to turn over big volumes during afternoon trading on the stock exchange today.

At 2 p.m. sales totalled more than 7,000,000 shares, a figure unequaled since early last June.

Consolidated Halliwell and Coldstream climbed about 17 cents in active trading to lead low-price mines ahead. Arlong seniors, Noranda firmed $1.

In western oils, National Pete gained 30 cents and Britalta 20.

Producers Increase Pipeline Interests

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Times Business Editor

Two of Western Canada's largest oil and gas producers have substantially increased their interests in Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd.

Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Co. Ltd., holder of an interest for more than two years through Western Pipelines, has increased its share to 17 per cent.

Canadian Gulf Oil Co., which held an option on a 10 per cent interest, has also boosted its share to 17 per cent.

Both companies have joined with Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and the original sponsors—Canadian Delphi Oil Ltd. and Western Pipelines—to work toward the earliest possible completion of the Trans-Canada line.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Quiet trading and a slight downward drift prevailed in the stock market late this afternoon.

Canadian issues were mostly unchanged. Aluminum Ltd. was off 1/2 and International Nickel added 1/4.

LONDON

LONDON (Reuters)—A one-per-cent increase in the bank rate caused no violent reaction on the London stock market today and little business followed.

As the increased rate had been widely expected, stock prices had been to a large extent discounted by the recent heavy fall in the market.

Stock closings: Babcock and Wilcox 69s 3d, Canadian Pacific 55s 3/4, General Electric 51s 3/4, Hudson's Bay Co. 158s, Imperial Chemical 42s 3/4, Imperial Tobacco 55s 3d, Metal Box 44s, Mexican Eagle 22s 3d, Rand Mines 70s, Rolls-Royce 101s 10 1/2d.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—Firm prices prevailed in active dealings for most grains on the board of trade today.

March wheat sold at a seasonal high at one time, slipping back later. Buying in wheat was attributed partly to mills, representing good domestic and export flour business.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1 cent higher. March 2.16 1/2, corn 1.29 1/2, oats 1/2 higher, March 62 1/2, rye 5 1/4 higher, March 1.23, and soybeans 1-4 lower to 2 1/4 higher, March 2.50 1/4.

Trade Minister C. D. Howe said recently that he expected a start would be made this spring on the $350,000, 2,250-mile natural gas line from Alberta to eastern Canada.

It is understood that Tennessee Gas and the two original sponsors reduced their interests to allow the new increases. The ownership percentages now are: Canadian Delphi 24 1/2, Western Pipelines 24 1/2, Canadian Gulf 17, Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas 17 and Tennessee 17.

PROMENADE

Capt. W. R. Stacey, chairman of Victoria Chamber of Commerce harbor group, says a promenade in front of the Causeway, at the inner harbor would cost about $200,000.

He declares the promenade, built on steel piling, would be necessary if the harbor in front of the Empress Hotel is to be dredged below the low-tide mark.

1061 YATES ST. 4-7196 VICTORIA

IT'S MY VIEW BY Bill Walker

The announcement said: Edmonton Flyers have traded centre Gordon Pennell to Vancouver Canucks for left winger Earl "Ching" Johnson.

Comment: The Western Hockey League constitution, as we understand it, bans player transfers between clubs after January 15.

So what gives?

Actually the WHL constitution in this case, is just so many words, neatly printed, but meaningless.

For regardless of whether or not the Flyers traded Pennell for Johnson, they could have done so without being so brazen about it.

Which is probably why the deal went through with nary a published dissenting note from other WHL clubs.

How do WHL clubs beat the rap: It's simple, all too simple. One has to go back only a few weeks to get the answer.

For it will readily be recalled that one of the newest Cougars is winger Bruce Carmichael, formerly of the Vancouver Canucks. He came to the club after the January 15 deadline.

That deal went something like this.

Tom McCarthy of the Saskatoon Quakers was recalled by the parent New York Rangers of the National Hockey League and then promptly sent to the Canucks by the Rangers.

To make room for McCarthy, the Canucks had to give up a player. That player was also sought by the Cougars. That player was Carmichael.

Ergo: The Rangers recalled Carmichael from the Canucks and sent him to the Cougars.

Coach Art Chapman of the Canucks, it has been said in news reports, was hesitant about releasing the circumstances surrounding Pennell's acquisition in trade for Johnson.

The Difference Is the Same

He shouldn't have been. The Canucks wanted a centre, the Flyers a left winger. The trade was made—either one way or another. It really doesn't matter which.

The kettle, it is said here, is just as black in one WHL city as the pot is in the other.

So much for rules; they are made to be broken.

Of course we could tell you this too. Pennell was almost a Cougar once. But the story that Buffalo officials told Lynn Patrick of the Bruins is that Pennell didn't really want to come this far west. This was after the deal had been made. Here's the answer buried as it has been in hockey's amazing intrigue.

The Detroit Red Wings wanted Norm Corcoran from the Flyers; the Flyers wanted someone to return. That someone was Pennell (who didn't want to come west).

Max McNab, coach of the New Westminster Royals, is becoming quite a TV personality. He's almost a regular on Al Pollard's Tuesday night show from Vancouver.

Speaking of all-stars this week, McNab was gracious to the Cougars.

He gave the opinion that Marcel Pelletier is the western division's all-star goalkeeper and that his dream of a forward line would find Phil Maloney of the Canucks between Colin Kilburn and Doug Macauley of the Cougars. The one defence-man he named was his own Bob Bergeron.

Max agreed with a thought expressed here earlier this season.

He didn't think it fair to the selectors that they name an all-star team from the entire league, but said each section should have its own all-star unit.

Boyd No 'Softie', Ask Eduardo Lause

CHICAGO (UP)—Middleweight Bobby Boyd, a kid with a heart who had to take hundred dollar bouts for a year to get over being "soft," hoped today to move into a scrap this year for a world title.

Boyd, 22, and his manager, Bernie Glickman, contended he earned the chance Wednesday night when he took the best punches of Argentina's Eduardo Lause for 10 rounds and won a split decision for Lause's first loss in 33 fights.

Boyd proved he wasn't "soft" and had heart to spare when he tangled with the fiery, hard-punching South American. Lause tagged him with a right to the body and a left to the head and once scored a knockdown when he got Boyd on the back of the neck with the left as Boyd was ducking away on one foot.

But Boyd came back punching all the way, for his eighth straight win.

Briggs Takes Over Washington Hot-Seat

By JACK HEWINS

SEATTLE (AP)—George C. Briggs Jr. was named director of the turmoil-torn University of Washington athletic department Wednesday by vice-president H. P. Dick Everest.

Mr. Everest made the disclosure after a conference with the university's student board of control and said "Mr. Briggs has accepted."

The 31-year-old Briggs has been assistant director of athletics of California since 1953.

University president Dr. Henry Schmitz issued an immediate announcement, saying "Mr. Briggs will have my complete support."

The appointment of Mr. Briggs ends for good, I hope, the recent football controversy.

Indications the football troubles still were bubbling came earlier in the day when a group of alumni met with Dr. Schmitz to recommend their choices for the athletic director's post, left vacant when Harvey Cassill resigned last week.

Briggs' name was not on the alumni list.

After the meeting the group said it would circulate petitions immediately seeking the dismissal of Mr. Everest.

The university's athletic troubles began in November when members of the football squad revolted against what they called the "tyranny" of coach John Cherberg. Cherberg was fired late in January.

It will be Briggs' job, Everest said, "to make an immediate search for a football coach, and he already is beginning this task."

V's Won't Pay Rent For Arena

PENICONT, B.C. (CP)—Arena rent for Friday's game between V's and Vernon Canadians will not be paid, hockey club officials said Wednesday.

President Jack Newton said the rent wouldn't be paid "regardless of the gate" proceeds.

The club statement followed a declaration by the parks board that arena doors would be closed to V's unless rent was paid by cash after each game and unless arrears are paid.

A joint meeting of city, parks board and hockey officials is slated for Monday.

"We have nothing to hide and welcome this opportunity for a full and frank discussion of the hockey problem," said Newton.

Bad weather and an awkward league schedule are mainly responsible for the present financial condition of the club, he said.

Newton said the club would make his recommendations to Canadian club owners March 1 at Toronto. If he gets the green light then, he will meet again with Bell and try to reach a permanent agreement on the question.

If they cannot agree then, both Bell and Cooper said, they would accept the decision of an impartial third party.

Bell had the full backing of the 12 NFL club owners to make whatever decision he felt would be best concerning the status of players who jumped contracts.

But Cooper must make his recommendations to Canadian club owners March 1 at Toronto. If he gets the green light then, he will meet again with Bell and try to reach a permanent agreement on the question.

Cougars Plan Showdown With Canucks Tuesday

Regals Only Barrier; Amerks Drubbed

Victoria 7, Seattle 1

Victoria Cougars went gunning for Vancouver Canucks at Seattle Wednesday night.

And their aim at first place in the western division of the Western Hockey League was dead on.

They whipped the Americans 7-1 to move within two points of the pace-setting Canucks and set the stage for a possible battle for the league lead when the Canucks visit town Tuesday.

All that now remains is for the Cougars to defeat Brandon Regals here Friday night, and a crack at first place will be theirs.

This is regardless of what the Canucks do against the Americans Friday. If Cougars and Canucks both win, Cougars could tie for top place by defeating the Canucks here.

If Cougars win and Canucks lose Friday, then the clubs would enter the contest with identical records, the winner taking the spoils.

Caught in the fury of the recent Cougar surge which has seen the club win 12 of its last 17 games and compile a 14-1 record best in the circuit, since the New Year, were the Americans Wednesday.

OPENED FAST

Cougars scored twice in the first eight minutes through Bruce Carmichael and Nelson Bulloch, and never looked back.

Ed Dorohoy salvaged Amerks' only goal by stealing the puck and beating goalie Marcel Pelletier easily in the first period.

But that only stirred the Cougars to greater efforts.

Before the period was over, Wayne Brown had scored to put Cougars ahead 3-1. Colin Kilburn, with his 36th goal of the season, and Doug Macauley with his 25th, upped the ante in the second frame.

Carmichael with his fourth in two games, and Bill Davidson with his third in three games, finished off the rout in the third period.

Kilburn, in addition, picked up three assists to move into third place in the scoring race with a 36-33-69 record. Phil Maloney, of the Canucks, leads with 76 points.

Defeat for the Americans left them tied for third place with New Westminster Royals—11 points in arrears of the Cougars and 13 off the pace of the Canucks.

Moore May Lose Title By Default

LONDON (AP)—Teddy Waltham, secretary of the British Board of Control, Wednesday night demanded the suspension of world light heavyweight champion Archie Moore if he refuses to defend his title in London.

Moore is scheduled to put his title on the line against Yolande Pompey of Trinidad in London, March 13—but doubts and problems surround it all.

Some British boxing writers have suggested Moore is trying to put off the fight because he can't make the weight.

Waltham stepped into the big controversy with this comment: "If Moore breaks his contract to fight Pompey in London then the BBC will ask the New York authorities to suspend him, and declare the title vacant."

BAYS THREE POINTS UP IN BARNARD CUP RUGBY

The week-end rugby spotlight will focus solidly on the second-half of the Barnard Cup series Saturday.

James Bay Athletic Association and Oak Bay Wanderers will go into the second game of a two-game total-point series for the Barnard Cup and the city first division championship when they meet at Macdonald Park at 2.

JBAAC came from behind last Saturday to post a 6-3 victory in the series opener and they will carry a three-point lead into Saturday's second game.

In a non-Victoria Rugby Union game, University School will host St. George's at University School grounds at 2.

Sports Pictorial Hall of Fame

WINNIPEG (CP)—Shades of the past came back to sports enthusiasts of Winnipeg on Wednesday night as the Manitoba sports Hall of Fame, a pictorial record of provincial champions, was unveiled at the Winnipeg Arena.

More than 4,000 fans, on hand for the Manitoba curling championships at the arena, heard Premier Campbell officially open the display, sponsored by the Winnipeg Tribune and gathered by its former sports editor, Tony Allan.

Humez May Show In New York Ring

NEW YORK (UP)—Matchmaker Billy Brown disclosed today he expects Charles Humez of France, second ranking middleweight contender, to make his first American fight at Madison Square Garden March 23.

"We expect confirmation on Humez' garden fight before the end of the week," Brown said.

Brown said Humez would fight either Ralph (Tiger) Jones or the winner of Friday night's garden bout between Gene Fullmer and Gil Turner.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books? Then ask Andy. Andy who is a prize, not a person, will answer two questions daily submitted by child readers of Canada and the U.S. Children who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive as prizes for the main question, either a 16-volume set of "The Children's Hour" or a 20-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia." Prizes for the secondary question will be an American People's Encyclopedia Year Book or a year's subscription to "Treasure Trails" plus "Andy's Everyday Encyclopedia."

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of The American Peoples Encyclopedia to Phyllis Shay, aged 11, of Dallas, Texas, for her question:

Is There Really Gold in the Sea?

Andy often gets this glamorous question. So some of you may wonder why Phyllis' letter was chosen instead of yours. The reason is mostly just bad luck. Only one could be chosen from 24. So, this is the best way for 23 people to handle a bit of bad luck. Just start right over and try again. There is still ten billion tons of gold waiting in the sea. There are at least ten billion more fascinating questions waiting to be asked.

Yes, it is true. There is gold in the sea. It doesn't float around in nuggets. It isn't the gold in sunken treasure ships. It is dissolved in the seawater along with about 50 other chemicals and minerals.

This gold was not put there by old-time pirates, but it was put there by robbers. These robbers are millions of little streams and countless big rivers. Their tiny tongues of water lap at rocks and soil. All kinds of things are dissolved and carried away in the flowing streams.

Finally this water empties into the sea. Every hour, tons of river water carry along supplies of dissolved minerals to the sea. And the sea holds on to the loot. The heaving sun dries up water from the face of the sea. But the water goes off in tiny molecules of pure vapor. Most of the heavy plunder is left behind. Day by day the robbery goes on. Day by day the sea gets saltier as dissolved minerals are added.

The restless sea mixes and tosses the world over. Areas around big rivers and near melting icebergs are somewhat less full of chemicals. Stagnant seas tend to collect more chemicals in their waters. But, in the main, seawater is very much alike all over the world.

There is plenty of ordinary salt in the brew. There is calcium, cobalt and there is magnesium. There is gold and

'Stick to Policy' Gaglardi Advised

Laing Tells Minister to Stop Interfering With His Engineers

Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi Wednesday was advised to stick to matters of policy, and leave on-the-job engineering decisions to qualified engineers.

The suggestion was made in the legislature by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing, who said Mr. Gaglardi should "not be standing on top of" his engineers.

The highways department has been troubled by a rash of resignations in the past three weeks, including that of chief engineer Neil McCallum.

"Let's take his two airplanes away from him," said Mr. Laing, to the applause of opposition MLAs.

"Let's buy him a horse," chimed in Robert Strachan (CCF-Cowichan-Newcastle).

SERIOUS TROUBLE

Mr. Laing said the highways minister is "in serious trouble in his department," while Premier Bennett shook his head.

"Oh yes, he is in trouble," repeated the Liberal chief.

"I would suggest his troubles are primarily due to the fact you didn't pay his men enough money. I only hope the small increase to the civil service in this budget is not too late.

"A wise government," added Mr. Laing, "should know their job is policy. The minister of highways should keep himself away from on-the-job work."

"I believe he has been so impressed in many places by what the people there told him, he has told the engineers to change their plans."

He referred to the controversy over Mr. Gaglardi's plan to construct a $17,000,000 tunnel at Deas Island, across the Fraser River, as part of a $30,000,000 super-highway to the U.S. border.

"There was not too much thinking behind this entire proposal," he said.

Neil McCallum was head of the technical committee for metropolitan highway planning, which spent months examining projected crossings of the Fraser River.

It recommended priority be given to a four-lane crossing at Annacis Island, to ease congestion at New Westminster's Pattullo Bridge.

"They found that only 8 per cent of the traffic was interested in going to the United States border," said Mr. Laing.

Many top engineers sat on the committee, which put a Deas Island crossing at the bottom of the priority list.

Mr. Gaglardi said the engineers "left it up to me" to make a decision on the tunnel at Deas Island.

Mr. Laing suggested Premier Bennett went for the Deas Island tunnel because an Annacis Island crossing would be too near the toll-free Pattullo Bridge.

The tunnel will be a toll authority project.

Gulf Island Ferry Contract Awarded

Present Operator of Service Will Expand Throughout Area

The provincial government has accepted tender of Gulf Island Ferry Co. (1951) Ltd. to provide ferry service in the Gulf islands for an annual subsidy of $84,000.

As a result, the company will begin immediate refitting of its Motor Princess, former C.P.R. ship, for use on the Swartz Bay-Fulford Harbor service.

The vessel will make eight round trips per day, and will be able to carry 30 automobiles and 250 passengers.

Additional service to be provided under the contract, effective July 1, will be the continuation of the present Crofton-Vesuvius Bay service. The Geo. S. Pearson will make 10 round trips daily in the summer, and eight in winter.

INTER-ISLAND RUN

A new run to be made by the Cy Peck will be a twice-daily trip from Ganges to Galliano, Mayne, Saturna, Pender and Swartz Bay, then return to Ganges. The service will be reduced to one trip per day in the winter.

The ferry company, which already operates the services to Vesuvius Bay and Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island, was the only bidder on tenders called by the highways department.

"I can say without hesitation that our company will make every reasonable effort to discharge this responsibility in a manner calculated to meet with the general approval of residents of the Gulf Islands, the travelling public, and the government of our province," said Gavin Mouat, company president, when word of the acceptance of the tender was received. The company will spend well in excess of $200,000 in preparing its three vessels for the service. Bulk of this sum will be spent on the Motor Princess, now lying in Victoria harbor. A new engine will be fitted and other improvements made.

Ladysmith Club Sets Coho Derby One Month Early

LADYSMITH — The Ladysmith Fish and Game Club's annual coho derby will be held one month earlier this year and the light tackle class will be eliminated, members decided this week.

For years the competition has been held in mid-August, but it was decided to hold it July 8 this year to avoid conflict with Nanaimo and Chemainus derbies.

Instead of holding a light tackle competition in conjunction with the derby this year, the club will hold a light tackle competition for members and their families about two weeks after the public derby. This club competition will be combined with a picnic on one of the nearby islands.

In suggesting the changes, club president Bill Cullum said that entries in the light tackle class in recent years had not been sufficient to cover the value of the prizes.

Ladysmith Chamber Proceeds With Amalgamation Project

LADYSMITH—Further information on the implications of amalgamation of Ladysmith and the adjoining districts will be obtained by the Ladysmith Chamber of Commerce before that organization takes definite action on the question.

It was decided this week that the executive of the chamber would meet with John Ulinder, president of the Bayview Ratepayers Association, to determine what steps had been taken by that organization in regard to amalgamation.

It was decided that the executive would prepare an illustration to show how much would be paid in taxes on specific assessment totals in 1955 in the city and in the district. It is hoped that a simple formula can be taken from such an illustration so that ratepayers can calculate for themselves what the taxes would be on their property.

Mau Will Case Expert Contends Writing Similar

NANAIMO (CP)—Thomas R. Duckworth, a handwriting expert, testified Wednesday that a will purported to have been written by Charles R. Mau on Oct. 28, 1954, and a statement made by Mrs. Frances Maud Steele to Police, "were written by the same person."

Mrs. Steele charged with the forgery of a will and other documents, is on trial before Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Supreme Court.

Duckworth was asked by Mr. Justice Wilson: "Do you think the hand written will and the statement were written by different or by the same persons?"

"By the same person except for the signature of George Lee at the bottom of the written will," replied Mr. Duckworth.

After making a study of Mau's handwriting, and other documents, the witness said he came to the conclusion that Mau was a careful writer and was good at spelling. In the hand-written will he noticed spelling mistakes.

Writing on the will and other samples of Mau's handwriting "are as different as chalk and cheese," Mr. Duckworth said.

Crown counsel A. G. McCulloch of Port Alberni wound up examination of Mr. Duckworth. Then J. D. McPhee, lawyer for the accused, began cross-examination.

"Even as a handwriting expert, you could be wrong?" suggested Mr. McPhee.

"I am not infallible," replied Mr. Duckworth.

"He said that after making comparison of the handwritten will and Mrs. Steele's statement to police there could be very little element of error in his conclusions."

The trial is continuing.

B.C. Murder Case Goes Into Files

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—Files on a three-year mystery were closed here Wednesday at the inquest held on Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Labrie whose skeletons were found last September. The jury returned a verdict of murder by gun and knife wounds.

The Labries disappeared from their home at nearby Mission flats in November, 1952. Henri Seguin, who was living with the couple, disappeared at the same time.

Seguin, who was suspected by RCMP when the couple dropped from sight, later killed himself while waiting to be hung for the murder of an Ontario taxi driver.

Tag Days Increased In Duncan

DUNCAN—City council this week approved a number of tag days for the year.

In addition to the regular established tag days for Rotary, Kiwanis, CNIB and Boy Scout apple day, days granted were March 10, to Cowichan WI in aid of the Solarium; April 7, Order of the Royal Purple; March 24, Duncan Dogwoods; IODE; Alexandra Rose Day, June 23; Cowichan District Hospital Association, Sept. 8; SPCA, Dec. 8.

Policy of the city council is to allow one tag day a month. It was reported the calendar is now practically complete.

Badminton Club Elects Officers

CHEMAINUS—Bill Stein has been elected president of the newly-formed badminton club here, and Sybil Richardson is secretary-treasurer.

Ezra Nicholls and Nick Maika will head the membership committee. Weekly play will be held in the Community Centre gymnasium.

DUNCAN ASKS EASIER HOUSING REGULATIONS

DUNCAN—Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce will ask Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for a special waiver on its restrictions to permit houses being built in this area without first having sewer lines laid to the subdivisions.

The chamber will point out that owing to industrial development in the near future, this district will require 250 new houses for the anticipated increase in populations.

Housing subdivisions here have been approved by the local health officer but rejected by the CMHC under the National Housing Act.

Cen. Saanich Plans Zoning Discussions

SAANICHTON—Two public meetings will be held in Central Saanich municipality in the immediate future to acquaint taxpayers with the provisions of the zoning by-law.

Copies of the revamped by-law are being studied by members of the council preliminary to instructions to municipal clerk Don Wood to arrange place and dates for the meetings.

The council Tuesday night gave consideration to local improvement by-law 67, drawn up in compliance with the majority vote of ratepayers at last December's elections.

The by-law will be known and cited as the Local Improvement System By-law, 1956.

BY-LAW PROVISIONS

The by-law provides that the following works shall in future be undertaken as local improvements:

Opening, extending, diverting or improving a street; opening or establishing a new street; constructing a bridge as part of a street; paving a street; and constructing a curbing on a sidewalk in, upon, or along a street.

By hiring equipment and doing the work itself, the municipality expects to save $1,000 in building "Sluggert" road through to Wallace Drive.

Campney Gets That Ear Back

TORONTO (CP)—The ear Defence Minister Campney said he didn't want is back on parade in a new army publication. It appears in an accident-prevention calendar, distributed to units by the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps.

Several weeks ago an army directive was issued stating that in future photographs of Mr. Campney posted in army quarters or publications must show only one ear—two-ear portraits were out.

Now comes the army calendar bearing a handsome portrait of Mr. Campney—with two ears.

Revision Court Orders Cut

DUNCAN—The government court of revision sitting here for the last week ordered the maximum reduction permissible under the Municipal Act on the Canadian Legion building, now owned by former Duncan mayor James C. Wragg.

Last week Mr. Wragg appealed against the assessment of $20,940 on improvements on the property and the court has reduced the assessment to $18,940. Land value remains unchanged at $1,625.

The Legion, Mr. Wragg stated in his appeal, had sold him the building and land last year at $1,565 below the assessed value. The assessor and city clerk, Gordon Berry, estimated the value of land and building at $34,000 and on the basis of 1953 replacement cost he was obliged to assess at the rate of 60 per cent.

Laing Asks Judicial Probe in Sturdy Case

Liberal leader Arthur Laing Wednesday called for an immediate judicial inquiry into the Sturdy case.

Speaking in the budget debate in the legislature, Mr. Laing said:

"I feel a very deep concern over what has now come to be known as the Sturdy case."

"Behind this case, now immutably fixed in public view by a comparatively innocuous civil action for slander, are accusations, which, if true, will destroy the integrity of this government."

"And the minister at this date has neither replied to the statement of defence, nor set the case down for trial."

Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy is being sued for slander by Bands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers for a statement Mr. Sturdy made before the Sloan royal commission on forestry, concerning the issuance of forest management licences.

Mr. Sturdy said he holds "a certain body of evidence" which now has been turned over to the RCMP for investigation.

Mr. Laing told the House: "Men in public life must at all times be above reproach—what is of equal importance, they must at all times appear to be above reproach."

"The dalliance of the attorney-general in brushing aside a statutory declaration placed before him by a reputable member of the bar has opened such a Pandora's box of innuendo, rumor, and sly inference by certain newspaper columnists as now to demand a clearing of the air."

"This... can be accomplished only if an immediate and thorough judicial inquiry be taken in respect of these charges," he said.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Stalwart supporters of the movement to accentuate the negative will be cheered no end to hear that the Hon. W. N. Chant is making an effort to not be disqualified as a negative accentuator.

Mr. Chant, as reported elsewhere in this issue, was asked yesterday whether or not work would start on a new courthouse in Victoria this year.

Said Mr. Chant, presumably in ringing and triumphant tones:

"My only statement is I would not say a start would not be made."

Experienced negative accentuators, who have spent years developing skill in the art, were not ungrateful with envy when they failed to not hear of Mr. Chant's undoubted accomplishment.

In a prepared statement, the president of the Victoria chapter, Negatives Unlimited, said: "I would not be incorrect in saying Mr. Chant has not failed to qualify for membership in our organization."

A well-known newspaper which has long supported the negative immediately prepared to publish a picture of the old courthouse, to be run with the caption: "This is not the new courthouse which might not be built this year."

Mr. Chant should not be surprised to find more than a trickle of not uncomplimentary messages flooding in.

It is not unlikely a typical one would read: "Never has so much not been said in such few words."

I trust Mr. Chant will not fail to make further strides in accentuating the negative. None of us should not be unaware of the lack of need for not saying nothing in statements which are minus unclouded issues.

Comes the revolution, the "no's" will have it.

About 320 Victoria employees of B.C. Telephone Co. will be among more than 4,000 phone workers throughout the province planning to draft new wage contract demands next month.

18,653 Pupils Here To Get Polio Vaccine

Another 4,287 Children Will Get Booster Shots

The polio Salk vaccine program for 1956 will be expanded to include a total of 18,653 children of Greater Victoria, Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, city medical health officer, announced today.

School children will receive the vaccine against polio shortly after Easter, she said.

Last year when the anti-polio vaccine was first introduced in Victoria a total of 4,287 children received injections. This included only grade one pupils and those entering grade one.

ONE TO NINE

In outlining this year's Salk program, Dr. Mahaffy said all students from grade one to grade nine, as well as those entering grade one in September, will receive the vaccine.

The pupils will receive the vaccine in two shots to be given one month apart.

The vaccine will be available to children in Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich, she said.

BOOSTERS

In addition, the 4,287 children who receive vaccines last year who received vaccines last year will receive boosters.

Dr. Mahaffy said the Salk vaccine program was delayed this year in order to permit research workers to develop a safer type of vaccine for one type of polio virus. There are three types of virus.

"No child will receive the vaccine unless he has a consent card from his parents," Dr. Mahaffy said. "This is a must."

She said last year's Salk program proved highly successful. Provincial records showed there was a marked decrease in polio since the vaccine had been introduced to British Columbia.

Thawing Pipes With Blowtorch Starts Fire

$5,000 Damage To Saanich Home

Use of a blowtorch to thaw frozen pipes resulted in a fire late Wednesday night which caused $5,000 damage to a Richmond road home and forced five to flee, Saanich firemen said today.

Mrs. Leslie Oberg and her two children, Theresa, 5, and Peggy, 3, and Mrs. G. Smalley and her six-year-old son rushed outside into freezing cold after the fire was detected in their home at 3600 Richmond at about 11:30 p.m.

HUSBANDS AWAY

They spent the remainder of the night with neighbors. Mr. Oberg was at work at the time and Mr. Smalley, a naval rating, was at sea.

Firemen said the blaze broke out some time after Mr. Oberg had been thawing pipes in the basement of his home with a blowtorch.

Some joists were apparently charred from the blowtorch. They smoldered for some time before breaking out in flames.

Flames licked through a floor, spread up walls, burned through a ceiling into an attic and ate through the roof. Damage was extensive to the rear portion of the house.

Four fire trucks sped to the scene when the alarm was turned in.

COLD WEATHER DELAYS BERT'S TACOMA SWIM

Second swim attempt of Bert Thomas, Strait of Juan de Fuca conqueror, from Seattle to Tacoma, originally scheduled for within the next few days, will have to be postponed at least until month's end due to cold weather.

A spokesman for Tacoma Athletic Association, swim sponsor, said today:

"The water is now about 42 degrees, and it will have to warm up at least another three degrees before the swim. It might even be to March before Bert can attempt it."

The distance involved is about 22 miles. Bert failed his first attempt last month.

Labor Favors Health Plan Like Britain's

CCL Council Hits Ottawa Plan

A Canadian national health plan like Britain's is asked in a resolution passed Wednesday night by Victoria Labor Council (CCL) for presentation at Canadian Labor Congress merged convention in April.

The resolution, one of two going from the Victoria council, says the plan proposed by the federal government is "of a piece-meal nature" and will not provide full benefits. The congress is requested to urge federal enactment of a large-scale health plan.

All affiliated local unions of the new congress also are asked to petition the federal government to enact legislation which would provide a full health insurance program for Canada.

Second resolution requests the congress to make political education part of the over-all educational program for affiliated unions and that week-end educational institutes be increased to two per year in each local area.

Such programs were carried on by both Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and Canadian Congress of Labor for their respective membership prior to this year when the merger takes place.

SELF-INDUCED SLEEP

Mr. Carr has had his communications with the Hindu teacher the past three years. He entered the work—well call it "because I was dissatisfied with orthodoxy. I found a greater understanding and peace, than found in organizational religions."

He enters the entrancement stage through self-concentration, self-induced sleep, similar to hypnosis. "It is just emptying oneself."

Sri Siddha is very much alive. Mr. Carr says he has heard from him via air mail. He reflects the teachings at meetings for which a fee is charged.

The master teaches Truth. And what is Truth? We asked. "It is the revelation of that which held me in bondage and gives freedom and joy beyond all thought," the earnest young man said.

Aim of the teacher in India, said Mr. Carr, is to unify the East and West through universal religion, based on realization of Truth.

Sri Siddha will speak tonight and Friday at 8 p.m. through Mr. Carr at a meeting in the Dominion Hotel.

FIVE LOCAL ENGINEERS GET LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

Five city and district engineers have been granted life memberships in the Association of Professional Engineers of British Columbia, it was announced today.

Former provincial lands minister F. P. Burden, now of Prince George, was also among the 36 veteran professional engineers awarded the honor.

MYSTIC VISITOR HERE

He Tuned in India ---Or Did I Dream?

By TONY DICKASON

An example of mental telepathy and thought transference was held here today between a visiting minister of the Universal Church of the Master in the United States and a Hindu mystic, Sri Siddha, who at that very moment was half-a-world away in northern India.

This was accomplished through the mind overtones of Rev. Robert Douglas Carr, the young America clergyman who looks as if he has achieved universal peace, his avowed aim.

The sitting and interview was held in an Oak Bay home.

Mr. Carr and Sri Siddha, "who is very old," are in mental rapport at all times, the 28-year-old mystic said, adding "I can tune in, now."

"Can you do it for us?" "I don't know how receptive you are, or if you are along the lines of reception and attainment."

When one takes the subjective and endeavors to look objectively, confusion results. At least it does with this individual. So what follows from here is strictly up to you.

These New Quilted Overalls Cover Baby's Feet, Too

By PENNY SAVER

Here's something I hadn't seen before as I wandered through children's departments. I've come across some rather revolutionary and wonderful things in children's playtime overalls. For the tiny tad who spends most of his waking and sleeping hours in a pair of these all-purpose overalls, these quilted ones with feet in them will prove to be very handy. For the little girl, there's pink, and for the boy, pale blue. The backs are elasticized, and the straps fasten with dome fasteners, so there are no buttons to worry about. Little bells tinkle on each foot. The material, a washable cotton, is checkered for a bright touch. In all infant sizes, they cost $2.98 a pair.

Week's Sew-Thrifty

Prettiest for sun, fun—chore-time too! You'll wear this versatile style as a smart sports jerkin—a cotton cover-up—a terry-cloth beachcoat—come summer! Easy sewing; opens flat to iron. "Pansy" pocket—cute trim!

Pattern 4804: misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16 takes 1½ yards 35-inch fabric; ¾ yard pocket contrast. Transfer too.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions.

Send 35 cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Print plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send order to Anne Adams, Dept. 60 Front St. W., Toronto, 1-A, Ont.

A great fear held by many women is that someone will suddenly appear at the door or drop in for a chat just after they have put their hair up in pins. This needn't be given a thought, really, because for just 45 cents, you can buy a cotton clip-on triangle that covers pins, and is pretty, too. At one edge of the triangle is a plastic headband, so it's easy to keep on. The two side points tie at the back of the neck, and the third point forms a covering for pin curls. No matter what you're wearing, there's a color or pattern to complement your outfit. Choose from solid red, blue, brown or pink, or polka dots in green, red and blue, or stripes in blue, pink or mauve. For a quick sud-sud, just slip the headband out and replace it after the small scarf has been ironed.

Just how well do most of us look after our hats? Are they neatly wrapped in tissue and stored in non-crushable boxes or special hat boxes? Many of us must admit that such is not the case. While I was in one of the downtown stores, I noticed a large, square box covered with quilted plastic. I found that these boxes come in red, pink and turquoise, and are perfect for keeping your hats neatly on the shelf. Large enough to hold quite a few hats without crushing them, these boxes are just $3.59 each. A good investment when one considers that an expensive hat may be ruined because of lack of proper care. Smaller boxes fashioned like models' hatboxes are a ray plaid, and have cord handles over the top. These will fit in your wardrobe, and are also handy for carrying, and are priced at $1.25.

Tailored blouses or sweaters are often much smarter looking for the addition of an eye-catching pin. Scarves and collars may be kept in place by an inexpensive pin. You've seen the collar pins that men wear with shirts with collars like the Radnor of England or other similar types. Well, why not use them? A silver-plated one costs just $1.50, and gold ones are a similar price.

Call me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where to find any of the items mentioned in the column today or in past weeks.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

'They're Either Too Young or Too Old . . . !'

A recent letter from a young teen-ager says in part "Mother is afraid of growing older and I am afraid I will not grow old soon enough."

This just goes to show how people are harassed by age consciousness. Many women worry as they approach middle age, while both men and women are apt to be apologetic about their ages from middle age on.

Whenever we meet a person who never mentions age simply because he never thinks about it, that individual seems youthful. If we all could forget about age and just concentrate on life, I think we would all be healthier, happier and better looking.

Then think of all the teen-agers who are so impatient to grow up, to look grown-up and to make their own decisions. This impatience to make their own decisions is natural but it leads to a lot of turmoil between children and parents. This is too bad because it spoils so much fun they could have together.

The young lady who wrote the letter quoted above was worried because her bust had not developed by the age of 13½. She said that many of her friends of the same age already have curves.

Girls develop a bust at varying ages, some much sooner than others. There certainly is no need for worry if your bust-line has not filled out by the age of 13 or even older.

Be patient about growing up. Enjoy the teen-age years and do not make them hectic by pulling at the leash. Soon enough you will have all the adult responsibilities you could ever hope for and you will look back on these carefree years wistfully at times. Before you know it you may be tempted to put your age back a few years rather than boost it.

Psychologists say that one of the best rules for vibrant living is to live fully in every period of life. Every age period has its advantages and special pleasures.

Local Council Resolutions

Local Council of Women drew up and ratified two resolutions, at the morning and afternoon sessions of their 62nd annual meeting yesterday.

The first, which will be forwarded to the government shortly, reads: "Whereas the Victoria Council of Women believing that it is of little use to spend large sums of public money on the beautification of the city and if new buildings of utilitarian type of construction are permitted to mar the finest prospects, therefore be it resolved that the Victoria Council of Women (1) compliment the provincial government of B.C. on its announced policy for beautifying the city and (2) request the government of B.C. to exert its influence towards some reconsideration of design for the proposed customs house for Victoria."

The second, to be sent to the city council, is similarly worded with the omission of the first clause.

Mrs. J. Tullis gave a report of health and welfare and also paid tribute to the late Dr. Laura Holland.

Dr. Olga Jardine spoke on her "Impressions of Scandinavia" at the afternoon session.

GALAXY OF TALENT ON SHOWER OF STARS, C-11 AT 8.30

ACADEMY AWARD NOMINATIONS—It is generally conceded that there is nothing in the North American theatrical year to match the Academy Awards for suspense and excitement.

On Saturday night at 8, Channel 4 will carry the next best thing to the actual awards—the Academy Award nominations.

For an hour-and-a-half viewers will be treated to the sight of the nominees. The five best male actors will be seen as well as the top five best actresses. The five best pictures of 1955 will be nominated, as will the best supporting actors and actresses, the best directors, best producers, best songs, best sets, best in color, best in black and white, best short subjects and so on.

The fight for the prized "Oscars" will be especially thrilling this year. For, as yet, there have been no "walk-away" pictures such as "From Here to Eternity" or "Gone With the Wind," which can also carry their stars, directors and producers holus bolus to Academy Awards.

WILL THE LATE James Dean, young star of "East of Eden" and "Rebel Without a Cause" win nomination? This is of outstanding interest to followers of motion picture art. To our knowledge an Academy Award never has been awarded posthumously and if Dean is nominated there is every chance that the youth killed in a tragic automobile accident may win an "Oscar" as the best male actor of 1955.

And what of the old timers? Will James Cagney make it for his fine performance in "Love Me Or Leave Me"? Or Spencer Tracy for "Bad Day at Black Rock"? Then there is Ernest Borgnine for his unforgettable performance as "Marty."

On the distaff side we hope Julie Harris will be nominated either for "East of Eden" or "I Am a Camera"; Katharine Hepburn for "Summertime"; and Betsy Blair for "Marty." No doubt Anna Magnani will be selected for "The Rose Tattoo" and Susan Hayward for "I'll Cry Tomorrow." Or how about Betty Davis for "The Virgin Queen" and Jennifer Jones.

Among the best pictures nominated we hope will be "East of Eden," "Marty," "Trial," and "Mr. Roberts." But whatever the outcome, it should be an interesting show.

FRIDAY, FEB. 17, 1956
ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Paying bills, collecting money due, looking directly at any real estate you may own or rent finds ways to so enhance its value you later get some big benefit. Forget new ideas and work out sensible system.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Now you can see more clearly than for long time how you can bring out your charm to greater advantage even though it means some extra effort, spending a little money. However, the result will be worth the effort. Take care of your health tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Calm down. Take it easy. Relax from that nervous, restless and vivacious quality with which you are so strongly endowed. Be sure you eliminate all current flaws in your surroundings. Help others with tiresome, tedious. Be Good Samaritan.

It was reported the following had been elected in Duncan as district officers: Mrs. K. Anderson, Lake Cowichan, president; Mrs. A. Fisk, Lake Cowichan, vice-president; Mrs. I. Aldred, Lake Cowichan, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Peterson, Parksville, treasurer; Mrs. O. Lyngen, Chemainus, warden.

Fluoridation Foes Mainly Elderly?

Most opposition to the fluoridation of public water supplies is likely to come from among the older citizens, Dr. James M. Mather, head of the UBC department of public health, told a meeting of Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

"Fluoridation will do these elderly people neither good nor harm," Dr. Mather said, "but they must be taught not to be selfish and to think of the future generation."

He urged the Jaycees to do all they could to educate the public to fluoridation as "the only effective means of curbing dental disease among children, regardless of the standard of living."

Dr. Mather said all existing measures to control dental decay are inadequate, whether it be consistent brushing, nutrition control or regular visits to the dentist.

Union Talks With Bosses Recommended

Working contracts should include a clause providing machinery for joint labor-management consultation, the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council was told Wednesday.

Reginald Jackson, Vancouver, representing the labor-management co-operation branch of the federal government department of labor, told delegates "there is an urgent need for greater co-operation for the production of goods and services in Canada."

Asking individual unions to back up his efforts at promoting greater employer-employee harmony, Mr. Jackson, who is himself a trade unionist, said joint consultation will do much to bring about industrial peace. Topics for such meetings would include such things as efficiency of production, elimination of waste, safety and accident prevention measures, elimination of fire hazards, good housekeeping in plants, "and anything else in which management and labor can work as a team."

The meeting indicated its approval.

Argos Drop Ticket Price

TORONTO (CP).—Toronto Argonauts have caught the mid-winter bargain-sale mood.

Club officials, attempting to sell 15,000 season tickets for Argos' home games in the Big Four football season, said Wednesday prices on some seats have been dropped between 50 cents and $7 a game.

Installation of a $90,000 lighting system for night games will reduce the capacity of Argos' home park, Varsity Stadium, by 1,000 seats to 26,935. The reduced capacity could be a factor in deciding the site of the 1956 Grey Cup game.

Price reductions affect all seats from the 15-yard lines to the end zones on both sides of the stadium.

STOCKHOLM (CP).—Sweden's national hockey team defeated the United States Olympic entry 4-3 in an exhibition Wednesday night, gaining revenge for a 6-1 setback suffered at the hands of the Americans in the Olympic tournament at Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, two weeks ago.

Low rental housing for pensioners and aged will be studied by a United Church committee which will be enlarged and made interdenominational.

The committee was appointed Wednesday at the final sitting of Vancouver Island United Church spring presbytery in Centennial United.

Nucleus of the new committee is Mrs. F. H. Parsons, president of Presbytery Women's Association; Mrs. C. W. Davies, Victoria, and Mrs. Ross Marshall, Shawnigan Lake, who have been investigating housing for senior citizens several months.

Mrs. Parsons hopes a low rental housing project may be sponsored by the church in this area, similar to Fair Haven, South Burnaby, which provides for 122 elderly people for between $27 and $60 a month. There are nine United Church housing developments across Canada.

First responsibility of the committee is to locate a site, possibly in a Victoria suburb. Progress will be reported at the B.C. conference of the church in May at St. Andrew's Wesley United, Vancouver.

Others on the committee are Rev. C. G. McKenzie, ex-officio as president of the presbytery; W. T. Strath, B. C. Braxwell, John Reimer, Graham McCall, Edward Williams, R. D. Roberts and Neil Swainson, with advisors Dr. F. E. H. James, Metropolitan United, and Rev. designed to deepen religious life for United Church people. During the Lenten season church officers will rededicate themselves, and organize visits to every home connected with their churches. Rededication of church members will take place at Easter.

An invitation was extended to the meeting to attend the fall presbytery which will be held in Nanaimo at St. Andrew's United.

Delegates gave a send-off to Rev. T. G. Griffiths, for the last undertaking a series of services nine years convener of home missions on the island, who place on the home missions leaves soon to a year's charge board will be taken here by his at a Congregational church in son-in-law, Rev. Frank Golightly St. Ives, Cornwall, Eng. His of Duncan.

Accident made her victim of Rheumatic pain

No matter how long you have been handicapped by the misery of rheumatic pain, you may get the relief for which you longed. Take the case of Mrs. Minnie M. McIntee, 131 South Vickers St., Fort William, Ont.: "For long enough I suffered from rheumatic pain in my hip, arm and hand, a result of being knocked down on the street by a falling sign. Sometimes the pain was extremely sharp, and my joints were stiff, sore and swollen. I did not find the medicine I needed—until my son used Templeton's T-R-C's for rheumatic pain. So I tried them too. It was a blessing I did, for at last I enjoyed the relief for which I longed. Now I'm up and active all day, thanks to Templeton's T-R-C's! Let T-R-C's help you—only 79c and $1.50 at drug counters. 20% Exemptions Hike Urged by Labor Men

A request to the federal government to increase income tax exemptions by 19.9 per cent will go from Victoria to the merger convention of Canadian Labor Congress in Toronto in April.

Victoria District Trades and Labor Council approved the resolution Wednesday night and it will be sent with others for consideration at the initial convention of Canada's million-member labor organization.

Another resolution, asking provincial and federal governments to see that the B.C. coast gets steel and copper smelters to enable local manufacture of industrial materials, was held over for further information.

Items were introduced by Mrs. Betty Graham, new chairman of the council's legislative committee.

She said the present income tax exemptions were based on 1948 costs, when the consumer price index was 97.0. Today, she said, it is 116.9 and in order to conform with the altered cost of living exemptions for single and married persons, and their dependents, should increase 19.9 per cent.

Reporting for Vancouver Island Building and Construction Trades Council, which recently held a joint meeting with the Metal Trades Council on apprentice wages, James Moffat said a committee will interview labor minister Lyle Wicks in an effort to have apprentice starting rates raised from 25 per cent to 50 per cent of journeyman rates.

For the final six months of apprenticeship, wages should be 90 per cent of journeyman rates, the council decided.

Council secretary Percy Raymond was made a delegate to attend the merger convention in Toronto.

Will Forgery Trial Reaches Jury Today

NANAIMO—The case of Mrs. Frances Maud Steele, charged with the forgery of a will and two other documents, will go to the Spring Assize Court jury today.

The case for the Crown was completed a few minutes before noon, and J. D. B. McPhee, lawyer for Mrs. Steele, said he would not be calling any defence witnesses. The trial was adjourned until 1:30 p.m., when Crown counsel A. G. McCulloch and Mr. McPhee will address the court.

Only witness to be heard today was Sgt. Norman W. Duxbury, of the RCMP crime detection laboratory in Regina.

He was cross-examined for more than one hour by Mr. McPhee.

Asked by defence counsel if a will purported to have been made by Charles R. Mau could have been copied, Sgt. Duxbury replied, "No."

The witness said an attempt had been made to disguise the writing in the will.

"In your opinion, was the questioned will written by an educated person?" Mr. McPhee asked.

"I would say it was prepared by a person of normal education," Sgt. Duxbury said. He stated that the endorsement on the certificate of shares in the name of Mrs. Steele was written by Mrs. Steele. He said that on examining the endorsement, he had noted the characteristics to be "highly individual."

Asked if he was infallible, as a handwriting expert, Sgt. Duxbury replied: "In this case I am quite sure."

"Have you ever been mistaken?" asked Mr. McPhee.

"Yes," Duxbury replied.

UN Clash, Food Giveaway Criticism, Fuel Policy Bother Washington

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
Editor, The Victoria Daily Times

WASHINGTON—The American government is disturbed and a little hurt by what it believes to be the current mood of Canada.

A Canadian has hardly arrived in this town before he is asked on all sides why Canada appears to be annoyed with its big neighbor; why our politicians are so critical of American policy; and whether this national humor will crystallize later on in national policy.

Americans as a whole, and even Americans in high office, know little of Canada, but they regard it as their closest foreign friend, almost as a member of the family. Thus at the first sign of disagreement north of the border they are unduly alarmed.

Criticism which would be disregarded if it came from any other nation cuts deep when it comes from Canada.

More in sorrow than in anger Washington is ruffled by three recent developments in Canadian affairs.

First, Canada clashed publicly with the United States in the recent issue of admitting new members to the United Nations. In that long struggle Canada won—or at least sponsored the winning formula—and the United States lost. Simultaneously Canada was making de-licious early recognition of Communist China, which is political anathema here.

ONLY POSTPONED
Both these points of friction have passed. The United Nations' decision on membership was settled by vote and cannot be altered. To avoid embarrassing its neighbor in a sensitive election year Canada will say no more about recognizing China.

Resigned Chief Engineer Rejects 'Quit Now' Offer

VCs GO TO LONDON AT OTTAWA'S EXPENSE

OTTAWA (CP)—The government will pay return transportation for Canadian Victoria Cross winners to a London celebration in June marking the 100th anniversary of establishment of the award, Veterans Minister Lapointe announced today.

The Commons announcement was greeted with applause.

A total of 96 Canadians have won the VC. Commonwealth's highest award for gallantry in action. It is believed at least 35 of them are still living.

Each will be able to take one near relative with them.

If they decide to go, three local VCs will benefit. These are Major-General G. R. Pearkes, Col. Cyrus Peck and Cmdr. Rowland Bourke.

Rain Tonight Will Break Cold Spell

Snow is expected to give way to rain tonight and Friday over southern Vancouver Island as a mass of warmer air moves in from the Pacific, bringing higher temperatures and pre-saging the end of Victoria's worst winter in five years.

Snow overnight varied from two to 10 inches at Island points with Campbell River recording the heaviest fall.

Official snowfall recorded at the Gonzales weather office was 3.3 inches to 10 a.m. Outlying districts recorded up to six inches according to unofficial reports.

But weatherman Bill Mackie gives assurance today that winter is over—at least for this burst.

Official forecast calls for snow mixing with rain this evening, turning into straight rain. Friday will be cloudy with rain or showers. Gradually increasing temperatures should show a low of 30 tonight and up to 38 Friday.

Low, Wednesday night and Thursday morning was 17.7 above, as against a low of 13.7 24 hours earlier. At noon, the thermometer stood at 25, as against 21 at noon Wednesday.

DRIVERS BOTHERED

A light, freezing rain shortly before 7 a.m. gave many motorists trouble, as the precipitation froze as it struck windshields. In many districts long line-ups of cars were stalled as motorists scraped off the ice.

Although driving conditions were tricky this morning, few accidents were recorded, all of a minor nature.

Campbell River's 10-inch snowfall gave school children a holiday today, but schools in the Greater Victoria area reported attendance normal.

Gagliardi Proposal Stirs Road Furore

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi has "suggested" that chief engineer Neil McCallum, whose resignation was to take effect March 31, leave his post immediately.

The chief engineer, the Times has learned, rejected the suggestion.

The minister's move came as the furore over the resignation of five highway engineers reached a new pitch.

Mr. Gagliardi suggested earlier this week "an organized, pressurized deal" is being pressed to get men out of his department.

The minister has told at least one opposition MLA he is convinced Mr. McCallum has had something to do with the resignations of four other department engineers in the past two weeks.

"How come the Opposition knows who is resigning and I don't, and my deputy doesn't?" asked the minister.

He was referring to a prediction by William Moore (C.P.F., Comox) that another engineer will resign this week. Mr. Moore asked for a complete investigation.

Mr. Gagliardi told the Times today:

"I suggested to Mr. McCallum that if he wants to leave for a time for a rest, before taking his new job, it's all right with us."

LETTER TABLED TODAY?

The minister also said it's "very likely" he will table the chief engineer's resignation in the legislature this afternoon. "I haven't quite made up my mind what procedure to follow," he said.

Mr. McCallum, it is reported, has refused to leave his position until his work is completely cleared up.

He submitted his resignation two weeks ago Wednesday.

Mr. Gagliardi's suggestion that the chief engineer leave immediately came as the department prepared for the largest highway-building program in B.C. history.

No replacement has been named for Mr. McCallum.

The chief engineer has declined all comment. He refused to give any reason for his resignation, other than to say he will go to work for an Alberta construction firm.

Controls Stay 2 More Years

OTTAWA (CP)—The government made clear today it plans to extend emergency transport controls for another two years.

Transport controller Roy Millner, member of the board of grain commissioners, will continue his dual operations. He took on the job of controller in 1951 in an attempt to clear a shipping bottleneck holding up essential grain and other raw material exports at the time of the Korean war.

QUEEN, DUKE EN ROUTE HOME

Lagos, Nigeria (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh left by air for London today after their 19-day tour of this African colony.

Their airliner took off from Ikeja airport for Kano, on the edge of the Sahara Desert, where they will spend a six-hour stop-over before resuming their trip home.

British Govt. Would Modify Death Penalty

LONDON (Reuters)—The government today asked that British penal law be changed so that only the worst type of murderers would be hanged.

Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd George made the proposal as he opened debate on capital punishment before a crowded House of Commons.

Lloyd George's proposal was believed to be an attempt to influence some of his supporters who might otherwise vote for abolition of the death penalty, which the government still considers necessary.

WILL BE "FREE VOTE"

The abolitionists have gained ground and a close vote was expected tonight. The government is making the vote a matter of conscience for its supporters. That means there will be a "free vote," with members of all parties voting as they wish.

Lloyd George said the government considers the time for the abolition of capital punishment has not come.

But he added it would take into account any changes of public opinion. If it considered it could safely abolish the death penalty it would not hesitate to propose that to parliament.

Britain Boosts Interest Rate

LONDON (AP)—The Bank of England today raised its interest rate for lending money to its highest level in 24 years—5½ per cent—in a drastic move to stem Britain's inflation.

The increase of 1 per cent—will have world-wide repercussions, since the Bank of England is the keystone financial institution of the sterling area. Other British financial institutions usually follow the lead of the nationalized bank.

Rumors Persist Princess To Join Catholic Church

LONDON (UP)—Published rumors that Princess Margaret may become a convert to Roman Catholicism spread today despite attempts by Palace sources to knock down the reports.

The published versions of the reports have been centred almost entirely in newspapers outside of Great Britain.

The West-Berlin newspaper Nachtausgabe said in this afternoon's edition that Margaret probably would become a Catholic "soon."

Meanwhile, Margaret had tea at St. Paul's Cathedral with high Anglican churchmen and followed it by attending an Anglican Church concert benefit this evening. Both were scheduled appointments.

A spokesman for Bernard Cárnal Griffin, head of the Catholic Church in England, when asked about the conversion rumors recalled an unfounded report in earlier years that King Edward VII would become a Catholic.

Nachtausgabe said her decision was not connected with her unfulfilled love for Peter Townsend. But it said, without giving a source, that the Catholic Duke of Norfolk was reported to have discussed her problem last week with Pope Pius XII.

The London Daily Herald became the first Fleet Street newspaper to publish the report here.

Buckingham Palace as usual had "no comment."

Court sources in London, when asked for guidance, unqualifiedly called the rumors false and baseless.

Six Abandon Wrecked Ship

Federal Vessel Rams Rocks In Cape St. James Blizzard

The Victoria-based tug Island Navigator and four other vessels are speeding to the southern tip of the Queen Charlotte Islands where a federal public works department vessel sank early today in one of the worst storms of the winter.

Six men were reported aboard the 82-foot Hilunga when it crashed against the rocky coast of Cape St. James, about 450 miles northwest of Victoria.

An American coast guard plane reported at 1 p.m. it had searched the area without finding any trace of the Hilunga or its crew.

PLANES JOIN HUNT

Island Tug and Barge Ltd. officials said Navigator was expected to reach the scene and commence a search for survivors about 4 p.m.

Hilunga is used by the public works department for inspection of wharves. She usually carries department engineers aboard.

Air Force Air-Sea Rescue headquarters at Vancouver said two planes—a Dakota and a Canco—took off from the Sea Island air base shortly after 10 a.m. to help in the search. The pilots had to brave near-zero visibility from a blinding snowstorm to get airborne.

CREWMEN LISTED

Aboard the Hilunga were Capt. H. W. Dale-Johnson of Vancouver; engineer Dave Ferguson of Vancouver; Dick Schultz of New Westminster; the cook; deckhands George Byko and John Doherty of Vancouver. The other man was not immediately identified.

Search and rescue officials feared that even if the crew had managed to get safely ashore, they might perish in the near-blizzard conditions that swept the area.

They said they had been in

Mayor Backs Causeway Site for World's Tallest Totem

Mayor Percy Scourrah thinks the world's tallest totem pole would look well at one corner of Victoria's inner harbor—the Causeway corner at the junction of Government and Belleville.

He asked the directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Wednesday if they could suggest any other suitable sites.

He added the city council would have to make the final decision and the more suggestions he had the better.

G. C. Parrott supported the mayor's suggestion.

"The harbor entrance is the show place of Victoria," he said, "and this monumental totem pole would fit into the general display."

Other directors favored Beacon Hill Park and Thunderbird Park. But Pat Birley said he was opposed to Thunderbird

Park as the giant totem would overshadow all the other totems.

"And we don't want it in front of the Parliament Buildings," he declared. "It is not their pigeon. I personally think Beacon Hill Park would be a better site."

Hector Crombie, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, suggested everyone who has bought shares in the totem should be allowed to vote on where it should go.

"That is a very sensible idea," commented chamber president G. F. Dunn.

The directors agreed to give the matter further study. Meanwhile, Mr. Crombie's suggestion has been passed on to Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Daily Times, which is sponsoring the world's tallest totem.

Cassiar Road Tenders Called

Department of mines today called for tenders on construction of the controversial Stewart-Cassiar road, on a section near Dease lake.

The contract will be on a machine-rental, and cost-plus basis, as in 1954 and 1955. However, in those years, no tenders were invited. The job was awarded to Wade & Wells Ltd. of Trail.

Construction of the northern mining assistance road is under investigation by a legislative committee.

Gagliardi Proposal Rejected

McCallum Will Stick at Desk

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi has "suggested" that chief engineer Neil McCallum, whose resignation was to take effect March 31, leave his post immediately.

The chief engineer, the Times has learned, rejected the suggestion.

The minister's move came as the furore over the resignation of five highway engineers reached a new pitch.

Mr. Gagliardi suggested earlier this week "an organized, pressurized deal" is being pressed to get men out of his department.

The minister has told at least one opposition MLA he is convinced Mr. McCallum has had something to do with the resignations of four other department engineers in the past two weeks.

"How come the Opposition knows who is resigning and I don't, and my deputy doesn't?" asked the minister.

He was referring to a prediction by William Moore (CCF, Comox) that another engineer will resign this week. Mr. Moore asked for a complete investigation.

While rest of Canada shivers in grip of winter storms, enthusiastic Victoria golfers make daily pilgrimages to the courses, proving this is year-round sports centre. Times columnist Monte Roberts played his usual number of holes at Uplands this morning. (Namely, none.) (Times photo.)

Canadian Criticism of U.S. Worries Top Policy Makers

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
Editor, The Victoria Daily Times

WASHINGTON—The American government is disturbed and a little hurt by what it believes to be the current mood of Canada.

A Canadian has hardly arrived in this town before he is asked on all sides why Canada appears to be annoyed with its big neighbor; why our politicians are so critical of American policy; and whether this national humor will crystallize later on in national policy.

Americans as a whole, and even Americans in high office, know little of Canada, but they regard it as their closest foreign friend, almost as a member of the family. Thus at the first sign of disagreement north of the border they are unduly alarmed.

First, Canada clashed publicly with the United States in the recent issue of admitting new members to the United Nations. In that long struggle Canada won—or at least sponsored the winning formula—and the United States lost. Simultaneously Canada was making deliberate gestures apparently indicating early recognition of Communist China, which is political anathema here.

Both these points of friction have passed. The United Nations' decision on membership was settled by vote and cannot be altered. To avoid embarrassing its neighbor in a sensitive election year Canada will say no more about recognizing from any other nation cuts deep when it comes from Canada. More in sorrow than in anger Washington is ruffled by three recent developments in Canadian affairs.

Historic Move Carries, 293-262

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons tonight voted to abolish the death penalty in Britain by a vote of 293 to 262 despite the efforts of the government to keep capital punishment.

Thus the abolitionists won a fight to end death by hanging for murder that has been going on for 94 years.

Voting cut across party lines.

Women packed the public gallery to hear the debate. Many waved their arms in excitement when the result of the voting was announced.

B.C. Ship Founders Six Men Missing

Victoria Tug Races to Aid in Search For Crewmen of Federal Survey Ship

The Victoria-based tug Island Navigator and four other vessels are speeding to the southern tip of the Queen Charlotte Islands where a federal public works department vessel sank early today in one of the worst storms of the winter.

Six men were reported aboard the 82-foot Hilunga when it crashed against the rocky coast of Cape St. James, about 450 miles northwest of Victoria.

An American coast guard plane reported at 1 p.m. it had searched the area without finding any trace of the Hilunga or its crew.

They said they had been in touch by radio telephone with the vessel after it ran aground and the seamen indicated at 2 a.m. they were ready to abandon ship.

PLANES JOIN HUNT

Island Tug and Barge Ltd. officials said Navigator was expected to reach the scene and commence a search for survivors about 4 p.m.

Hilunga is used by the public works department for inspection of wharves. She usually carries department engineers aboard.

Air Force Air-Sea Rescue Headquarters at Vancouver said two planes—a Dakota and a Canso—took off from the Sea Island air base shortly after 10 a.m. to help in the search.

The pilots had to brave near-zero visibility to get airborne. A Comox RCAF plane also joined the search.

Aboard the Hilunga were Capt. H. W. Dale-Johnson of Vancouver; engineer Dave Ferguson of Vancouver; Dick Schultz of New Westminster, the cook; deckhands George Byko and John Doherty of Van-cover. The other man was not immediately identified.

Search and rescue officials feared that even if the crew had managed to get safely ashore, they might perish in the near-blizzard conditions that swept the area.

They said they had been in touch by radio telephone with the vessel after it ran aground and the seamen indicated at 2 a.m. they were ready to abandon ship.

FISHPACKERS ON WAY

Heading for Cape St. James, in addition to the Victoria tug, were the federal fisheries department's Kitimat, fishpackers Kimsquit and Lavalee of Vancouver, and the Westjack, a 48-foot fishboat of Skidegate.

The RCAF said the Kitimat, despite engine trouble earlier, should be the first to reach the cape.

Cassiar Road Tenders Called

Department of mines today called for tenders on construction of the controversial Stewart-Cassiar road, on a section near Dease Lake.

The contract will be on a machine-rental, and cost-plus basis, as in 1954 and 1955. However, in those years, no tenders were invited. The job was awarded to Wade & Wells Ltd. of Trail.

The directors agreed to give the matter further study. Meanwhile, Mr. Crombie's suggestion has been passed on to Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Daily Times, which is sponsoring the world's tallest totem.

He asked the directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Wednesday if they could suggest any other suitable sites.

He added the city council would have to make the final decision and the more suggestions they had the better.

G. C. Parrott supported the mayor's suggestion.

"The harbor entrance is the show place of Victoria," he said, "and this monumental totem pole would fit into the general display."

Other directors favored Beacon Hill Park and Thunderbird Park. But
